As a child, Chris Bieniek made a cardboard version of Captain America's shield, then went across the street and begged his brother Jon and the neighborhood kids to throw rocks at him so he could test it out. And there's nothing sadder than a little kid with glasses and a cardboard shield going "Come on, guys...throw rocks at me!"
Current Favorite Games: Seaman, Marvel vs. Capcom 2, Crash Team Racing, X-Men: Mutant Apocalypse

Executive Editor Anatole Brown went to Japan recently to audition for the role of Iron Chef Mexican. His dishes using the theme ingredient sesos were impressive, ranging from Sesos Fettucine to Sesos in Fishhead Fondue, but unfortunately his hopes were dashed after host Takeshi Kaga overheard him call his outfit "totally gay."
Current Favorite Games: Tenchu 2: Birth of the Assassins, Boku no Natsuyasumi, Mega Man Legends 2, Ms. Pac-Man Maze Madness

Art Director Lisa Beattie hasn't taken a vacation in over six years, and the stress just recently got to her. After devouring all but one of the stuffed Tiggers in Jason's prized collection, she went into synthetic shock, holding the last survivor as she rocked back and forth with a mysterious smile fixed upon her workaholic face.
Current Favorite Games: Darkstalkers 3, Kirby 64: The Crystal Shards, Ecco the Dolphin, Space Channel 5

Jason Wilson is the most hypocritical of the Tips & Tricks staff, contradicting himself on a daily basis. However, he has a brilliant defense mechanism that allows him to defuse any argument with relative ease. When confronted with the truth about practically anything, Jason explains it all away by invoking the simple phrase, "That's different."
Current Favorite Games: Donkey Kong, Street Fighter III: 3rd Strike, Super Street Fighter II Turbo, Robocop vs. Terminator

Associate Editor Ara Shirinian has decided to form his own religion, tentatively dubbed the Church of Ara, after hearing about the $9,600-per-session that Courtney Cox pays to the Energetic Matrix Church of Consciousness. "Now all I need is a bunch of friggin' morons to give me money," he claims, "and I'll be set for life!"
Current Favorite Games: Star Wars Episode I Arcade Racer, Jambo! Safari, Drum Mania, Pop'n Music 2 & 3

The Hornets are not Associate Editor Charlotte Chen's favorite NBA team, but she does like them—and the players are so proud to have her as a fan that they've all had her name emblazoned on the front of their jerseys in big letters. Charlotte's lifelong dream is to have a city in North Carolina named after her. Hey, wait a minute...
Current Favorite Games: Mr. Nutz, Conker's Bad Fur Day, Diablo II, Planescape Torment

Contributing Editor Pat Reynolds is considered to be our hardest-working freelance writer, if only because of the limited materials he has available to him when preparing a strategy guide. He carves his text into stone slabs with a hammer and chisel and takes all of his screen shots with a homemade pinhole camera.
Current Favorite Games: Spider-Man, Final Fantasy XI, Rockman Battle & Fighter, Street Fighter III: 3rd Strike

Because the U.S. Air Force has called him back into service in Saudi Arabia, contributor Geoff Arnold hasn't "contributed" much to Tips & Tricks lately. But if you look at the big picture, you could say that his heroic truck-driving efforts are contributing to the freedom that we all enjoy as Americans. Or something like that.
Current Favorite Games: Iron Tank, M1 Abrams Battletank, Jackal, Combat

Compared to our other freelance strategy guide authors, contributor Rich Krupa has got it easy. Because of his magnetic good looks and endearing personality, he is constantly surrounded by a harem of beautiful handmaidens who feed him grapes, transcribe and proofread his notes and take all of his screen captures for him.
Current Favorite Games: Worms: Armageddon, Tony Hawk's Pro Skater, Vagrant Story, Godzilla: 2nd Generation

PS2: NO DOLBY DIGITAL?

I was at a video store one day and me and this guy were talking about the PlayStation 2. The guy said that someone told him that the PS2 will not play Dolby Digital DVDs. Is this true or is it just a rumor? I read your magazine a lot so can you please publish my letter?

—Devon Gurrola
Denver, CO

Thanks for your letter Devon! It seems you've been misinformed. All DVDs use what is known as Dolby Digital. Previously known as AC-3, it's the standard audio encoding scheme and all DVD players must support it. This person might have been trying to say that you won't be able to get 5.1 channel surround sound out of the PS2. However, that's also untrue. The "Digital Out (Optical)" port on the back of the PS2 can carry the entire 5.1 channel audio signal to a compatible amplifier.

HEROES WITH SOUL

I have owned a NES, a Super NES, a Genesis, a Sega 32X and own right now a PlayStation, an N64 and a Dreamcast and I have not yet found a game in which you are a black super hero (no sports games count). Is there a game with a black hero in it? Also, my friends are always telling me to subscribe to a different magazine and that you guys just say that yours is #1. Is it true?

—T.S.
Shawnee, KS

Well, there are relatively very few games with African-American characters as the hero or the player's character, but they're out there. To name a few recent ones: The Yellow Wizard and Sorceress from Gauntlet Legends, Houston and John Torque from Vigilante 8: 2nd Offense, D'arci Stern from Urban Chaos and Jade, Jax, and Kai from the Mortal Kombat series. Jax is even the star of his own game, Mortal Kombat: Special Forces! From the Street Fighter series, there's Balrog, Dudley and Elena. From Chrono Cross there's Macha. As for your second question: Of course we're #1! Don't listen to anyone who says otherwise!

D'arci Stern is the heroine in the PlayStation game Urban Chaos.

EARTHBOUND

Hey! How you guys doing? Anyway, I'd better get down to business; this letter is long. First, I've been looking trough my past issues of T&T (which is a lot) and I am getting sick and tired of people writing in asking for free stuff. Like Gary Magierski in your September 1998 issue. Don't they realize you guys aren't made of money? I am a major Earthbound/Mother 2 fan. For all of you people who don't know, Earthbound is a kickin' SNES RPG that was very underrated because of its "poor graphics." The graphics were actually done rather well if you take a look at the background graphics during the battles. The game is very creative and is set in the present time. What makes me really mad is that Nintendo didn't release the original Mother for the NES. Anyway, I want Earthbound 64 released here in the states. The game has been in production for a long time now and is already being pre-ordered in Japan. (That's a good sign!) If anyone else feels the same way, please visit starmen.net; they have an Earthbound 64 petition you can sign and they are going to send it to Nintendo, bound and very neat-looking. Go sign it! Also, I enjoy reading the Japan Report. Japan has had a big influence on me, and I plan to learn Japanese for my computer career. Ara, can you tell me a good book I can use to learn? How about the one you were reading in the Power Up! section in the June 2000 issue? Finally, I'd like to thank all of the staff at Tips & Tricks for being the best video game magazine on the market. You guys have made my day for over 64 issues of madness, mayhem and coolness. I'd like to thank you. You guys are really cool. Well, that's my letter. Finally to the end of writing it... Argg...If I have more to say, I'll send another letter soon, which I probably will. Anyway, could you please print it? It took me about twenty minutes to get all this down.

—Shawn Baker
Coppell, TX

Thanks for your kind comments, Shawn, and good luck with that Earthbound/Mother 64 petition; that's a game we'd like to play ourselves. As for learning Japanese, it's a very tough and long road to follow. Instead of reading a book, the best way to learn—short of going to Japan yourself—is to take an intensive class and practice writing, reading and speaking every day.

KICKING BUTT

I have been a subscriber for about 10 months and I am 9 years old. Anyway, I typed in codes and after about 1 1/2 hours of kicking my friend's butt, I turned it off. The next day I turned it back on and the codes were still there! Now I toss and turn in bed and try to solve the mystery! Can you explain why?

—Charles K. Collison
Davidsonville, MD

This is a difficult question to answer, since you haven't told us what game you were playing and what kind of codes you entered. However, if the game has an auto-save feature, the information that the code altered may have been saved before you turned the console off. Or, you may have just saved the game yourself without realizing it. On the other hand, if you were entering Game Shark codes, the Game Shark automatically saves all the codes you enter into it, so you don't have to enter them in every time. This has been a standard feature ever since the first Game Shark was released.

YOU SAY TOMATO...

Me and my friends have been arguing about the pronunciation of certain video game titles and characters' names. So I was wondering if you could print some pronunciations of the more difficult-to-pronounce video games and characters. Here are some examples, but you can add some if you like: 1. Gekido 2. Seifer (Final Fantasy VIII) 3. Tifa (Final Fantasy VII) 4. Sephiroth (Final Fantasy VII) 5. Ehrgeiz 6. Quezacotl (Final Fantasy VIII). Thanks, I'm sure these pronunciations will help settle arguments that have been going on for years.

—Lane Shuler
Townsend, TN

Okay Lane! If you really want the specific pronunciation to all those words, here it is. If you don't know how to pronounce the special characters below, just look in any good dictionary for a key. Note that Quezacotl is actually a misspelling of the word in Final Fantasy VIII.

Quetzalcoatl—ket säl'kō ät'l
Tifa—tē fä
Sephiroth—se fē rōth
Ehrgeiz—eä gäēz
Gekido—ge kē dō
Seifer—säē fa

Most people pronounce Seifer's name as "säē fər," but "säē fä" is technically correct.

TOO COOL

My name is Mike Smith. I'm 14. For the last year I've been using codes out of T&T. I didn't send in any comments because I thought you would never respond to my comment or question. My favorite game is Army Men, Sarge's Heroes. I've beaten it four times in a week. Is there any way I could buy Cool Zone stuff from you? It's awesome. I can't find any of the stuff in stores. If you like, you could hook me up with a Cool Zone item. If you don't mind.

—Mike Smith
Rocky Mount, VA

Sorry Mike; we've said this many times in the past, but it seems like it bears repeating. Cool Zone items are not always for sale! You'll be able to buy some of the items we show there at stores, but some of the special, extra-cool goods that we obtain you won't be able to find anywhere.

We always appreciate feedback on our magazine, except when it's insulting. We usually ignore letters like this one, especially when the writer is too cowardly to put his or her own name and address on it. But we made an exception just this once for two reasons. First, we don't only put readers' positive comments in Readers' Tips. *We welcome your constructive criticism and opinions. Second, you may be upset because we don't respond personally to our readers' questions. We would love to, but we just don't have the time or resources to do that. We do read all of them, however, and that's a lot more than most other magazines would do. # CHRONO CROSS™

by Ara Shirinian

It's finally here! The long-awaited sequel to one of the greatest Super NES games of all time, Chrono Trigger. Those of you who played the original may see some familiar people and places, though most of this game is totally new. It would take a bible to cover everything that's in this game, so our strategy will focus on five main things: getting all the Frames, getting all the characters that can join your party, key items, boss battles and important events. Key points in each section are cross referenced with the others so you can easily find the information you need. Ready? Let's begin!

ABBREVIATIONS

Chrono Cross takes place within two almost identical worlds. The world you start in is called Home World, while the new one you discover as you play the game is called Another World. To keep you from getting confused, I'll use these abbreviations throughout this strategy:

(A) Denotes that the preceding location name is in Another World.
(H) Denotes that the preceding location name is in Home World.

WORLD MAP

1. Arni Village
2. Cape Howl
3. Divine Dragon Falls
4. Forbidden Island
5. Fort Dragonia
6. Fossil Valley
7. Hydra Marshes

FRAMES

Here are the locations of all of the extra frames, roughly in the order that you may find them in. See if you can get them all!

| To get this frame... | Do this... |
|---|---|
| 1. Shellfish | Search the cart in Arni Village (H). |

- When you reach the Pearly Gate after Boss Battle 33, Harle will leave your party.

Optional Events 4:

If you want to get one of the most powerful weapons in the game, the Masternune, follow these steps:

1. With Karsh in your party, go to the same place in the Isle of the Dead (A) as Serge's guitar was in the Home World
2. An event will occur. You'll have to fight Lord Poppor for the last time here
3. Karsh will learn his Level 7 element and you'll get the Memento Pendant after the battle
4. Go to the Forbidden Island (H) with Riddel in your party and the Memento Pendant. You'll find Dario there and another event will occur
5. Battle Dario. After you win, Serge's Gar Swallow will turn into the Masternune! You'll also obtain Riddel's Level 7 element

Boss Battle 35
Where: Forbidden Island (H)

| Dario | |
|---|---|
| HP | 3,500 |
| Innate | Black |
| Elements | All |

This battle is super tough. Every time you use an element to attack Dario, he'll counter with either a healing element or a devastating attack that usually kills one of your party members. His standard attacks can also inflict up to 400 HP per turn. The key here is to not use any elements on Dario! Just fill up your grid with all kinds of healing and supplemental elements that you can cast on your party. Any time a character has less than 75% of his or her max HP, heal them as soon as possible. You must concentrate on physical attacks if you want to have any chance of winning. You may wait until you turn back to Serge to trigger this event if it's too hard at this time.

Branching Point 3

Depending on your previous actions, you may or may not have to fight the Black Dragon.

Path 3-A: Helping Nikki

To follow this path: You must have talked with Nikki in his room immediately after defeating Sage (Boss Battle 26) and chose to help him. Now, you must take Fargo from your party to speak with the other Fargo in the Home World on the S.S. Zelbess. Doing this will trigger an event at Marbule

What happens if you take this path:

- This is the longer path
- Miki will offer to join your party if you talk to her after the event in Marbule
- The Black Dragon will wake up, so you'll have to fight him later

Path 3-B: Not Helping Nikki

To follow this path: You must have not talked with Nikki in his room after defeating Sage.

What happens if you take this path:

- his is the shorter path
- Miki will not join your party
- The Black Dragon will not wake up, so you can pick up the Black Relic without fighting him.

Collecting the Six Relics

Now you must obtain a relic from each of the five dragons: White, Black, Yellow, Blue, Red and Green. You can defeat them in any order, but you must face the White Dragon last. Here's the order I recommend...

To the Water Dragon

You don't need to do anything special to reach the Water Dragon. Just walk up to it and fight!

Boss Battle 36
Where: Water Dragon Isle (H)

The Water Dragon uses elements like Tsunami and Deluge, which damage all of your party members. He isn't very aggressive, so if you have all the latest armor equipped you shouldn't have much trouble here. You'll get the blue summon element Blue Whale and the Blue Relic after this battle.

| Water Dragon ★ | |
|---|---|
| HP | 2,800 |
| Innate | Blue (Absorbs) |
| Elements | Blue |

To the Earth Dragon

At the Earth Dragon Isle, you may find your way blocked by an object underground called a Rockroach. To progress past this point, just talk to everyone above ground, then leave the area, return and talk to everyone again. The Captain will tell you if they need more time or if they've removed the Rockroach. If he says they need more time, just walk back out to the world map and return again. If you talk to the Captain one last time after they've removed the obstacle, he'll give you a Rainbow Shell. When you go underground again, the person standing where the Rockroach used to be will give you Explosives. You'll need these to plug up the holes in the next section with Rockroaches.

Boss Battle 37
Where: Earth Dragon Isle (H)

| Earth Dragon ★ | |
|---|---|
| HP | 3,100 |
| Innate | Yellow (Absorbs) |
| Elements | Yellow |

The Earth Dragon uses lots of physical attacks and can hit your characters multiple times per turn. Bring along a lot of healing elements if you want to stay alive. His Natural Gas attack will damage your whole party and it will cause your characters to become dizzy. Also, his Catastrophe element inflicts even more damage. After this battle, you'll obtain the yellow summon element ThundaSnake and the Yellow Relic.

To the Fire Dragon

Remember, you'll be able to find the Fire Dragon in Another World's Mount Pyre. A few parts of the cavern will be different since the last time you entered it, so some paths will be open to you that were previously blocked.

Boss Battle 38

Where: Mount Pyre (A)

| Fire Dragon ★ | |
|---|---|
| HP | 3,400 |
| Innate | Red (Absorbs) |
| Elements | Red |

The Fire Dragon has two forms. The first one is the same tiny dragon you fought last time. After you inflict enough damage, he'll transform into his second form.

He uses red elements so much that you won't have time to use a blue summon element, so just use your most powerful attacks instead of planning a long-term strategy. This is the most powerful enemy you've faced yet! His worst attack is Fire Breath, which will damage all your characters for about 200 HP each. This guy inflicts so much damage that you must spend many turns healing if you want to survive. When you have a choice between using a healing or attacking element, if any of your characters has 200 HP or less, go for the healing element. When you defeat Fire Dragon, you'll obtain the red summon element Salamander and the Red Relic.

To the Green Dragon

In order to find this dragon, you must first enter Gaea's Navel (H). To do this, you'll have to collect the Beeba Flute first. If you didn't take the "Saving Kid" route in the first half of the game, you might not have this item. You can still go back and get it, however. Next, you must collect the Ancient Fruit. To do this, return to where you first encountered the Beeba in Hydra Marshes. When you walk up to the area, an event will occur. During the conversation, select "Help out." You'll have to fight a short battle, then the Beeba will give you the Ancient Fruit. Next, go to Hydra Marshes (H) and talk to the Beeba there. After another short battle, he'll tell you where to use the Beeba Flute and Ancient Fruit. Once you get to Gaea's Navel, you must battle enemies here until Tyrano shows up on the screen where you first started. While you do this, if you have the trap element Sonja, you can use it on Prey Mantis to capture it. You'll know Tyrano is around when you return to the original screen and the background music stops.

Most of Green Dragon's attacks involve inflicting bad states onto your characters. He's really aggressive with this, so sometimes it's better to just ignore it and keep fighting. Use elements often to keep the field effect from turning all green. When he is almost dead, he'll start to use HealPlus (which restores over 400 HP) so it's really important to use your most powerful attacks at that time. After you defeat Green Dragon, you'll get the green summon element Genie, plus the Green Relic.

To the Black Dragon

Getting here is easy. Like at the Water Dragon Isle, you can just walk into the Black Dragon's room and fight him.

Boss Battle 41

Where: Marbule (A)

| Black Dragon ★ | |
|---|---|
| HP | 3,900 |
| Innate | Black (Absorbs) |
| Elements | Black |

This battle is difficult because of your opponent's high HP and his innate color, which is the same as Lynx's. Don't use any black offensive elements! What's worse, if you try to use white elements on him he'll cast AntiWhite on you. After this battle, you'll get the black summon element Grim Reaper and the Black Relic.

To the Sky Dragon

After you've collected five of the relics, you can challenge the Sky Dragon.

Boss Battle 42

Where: Sky Dragon Isle (A)

| Sky Dragon ★ | |
|---|---|
| HP | 3,800 |
| Innate | White (Absorbs) |
| Elements | White |

Sky Dragon likes to use his Holy Healing element, which recovers over 500 HP. So you'll actually have to inflict much more damage than it seems. If you've learned Lynx's ForeverZero element, it's very effective against this boss. And just when you think you're winning, he'll pull out his UltraNova attack, which will inflict about 250 HP damage for normal characters and over 400 HP for black elemental characters! This can kill most of your party, so be sure to give everyone the Revive element. After this battle, you'll get the white summon element Saints and the White Relic.

Get the Dragon Tear!

The next few events are very important. Follow these steps immediately after Boss Battle 42:

1. Go to the Dragon Shrine in Guldove (H) and talk to the guard.
2. Go to the Dragon Shrine in Guldove (A) and show the Tear of Hate to Direa. She will give you the Dragon Emblem.
3. Go back to the Dragon Shrine in Guldove (H). You'll be able to enter with the Dragon Emblem.
4. Talk to Steena there and she'll join your party. Also, she will give you the Dragon Tear.
5. Now, you can go straight to Fort Dragonia (H) to battle Dark Serge...

Boss Battle 43
Where: Fort Dragonia (H)

| Dark Serge ★ | |
|---|---|
| HP | 3,000 |
| Innate | Black |
| Elements | All except White |

After this battle, the Dragon Tear will change into the Tear of Love. Also, you'll finally turn back to Serge. All the characters you've obtained as Serge will become available, too.

Boss Battle 44
Where: Sea of Eden (A)

| Vita Unus, Vita Duo or Vita Tres ★ | |
|---|---|
| HP | 2 500 |
| Innate | Red, Green or Blue |
| Elements | [illegible] |

Depending on the order in which you visit the statues, you'll either battle with Vita Unus, Vita Duo or Vita Tres. The only big difference between each one is their Innate color. Otherwise, they're all pretty easy to beat.

Boss Battle 45
Where: Chronopolis

| Polis Police ★ | |
|---|---|
| HP | 3,200 |
| Innate | White |
| Elements | [illegible] |

This guy's Megaton Fist attack can kill any of your party members if their innate element is black! His only other element, Bazooka, is even more powerful and will inflict about 600 HP of damage to one person! The key here is to be aggressive and dish out as much damage as possible before he kills everyone

Boss Battle 46
Where: Chronopolis

| Fate ★ | |
|---|---|
| HP | 5,000 |
| Innate | Black |
| Elements | Black |

As soon as the battle begins, you'll see a countdown timer. When it reaches zero, Fate will unleash his Dark Energy attack This will damage everyone in your party by any amount from 150 to 350 HP. The countdown will also start over! Spend your turns healing immediately after the timer resets and brace yourself for the next volley! If you're fast, you can defeat him before the end of the second countdown.

Optional Events 5:

At this point there are a few more events you can consider:

- Lucca's House

If you go to talk to the [illegible] in Lucca's house where you have to rescue the children. If you complete this event, Kid will join your party again. Afterward, you can go to Lucca's [illegible] and you'll receive a Rainbow Shell.

- Chrono Cross

To obtain this item, go to the Home Dragon Fort (H) and use the Tear of Love on the altar. They'll combine into the Chrono Cross. You can trade it [illegible] your gold.

After you complete these two events, your next destination is the El Nido Triangle (A). If you don't have Kadia in your party, you must get her to join before you can go any further.

Boss Battle 47
Where: El Nido Triangle (A)

| Royal Jelly ★ | |
|---|---|
| HP | 1,657 |
| Innate | Blue |
| Elements | Blue |

Royal Jelly cannot be harmed by conventional weapons! Bring plenty of Red elements with you for this battle and you should have no problem. Starky must be in your party after you defeat this guy in order to progress the event further

Boss Battle 48

| Terrator ★ | |

Boss Battle 53

| HP | 2,800 |

| Elements | Blue |

Boss Battle 54
Where: Terra Tower

| Time Devourer ★ | |
|---|---|
| HP | 2,000 |
| Innate | Varies |
| Elements | All |

The Time Devourer is actually not very difficult to beat, but it will be a long battle. Its innate element will change and it will seem to restore its HP every time you inflict a certain amount of damage to it. Once its color becomes white again, it's almost dead!

Boss Battle 55
Where: Opassa Beach (H)

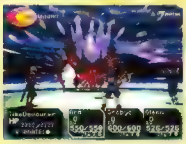
| Time Devourer | |
|---|---|
| HP | 10,000 |
| Innate | White |
| Elements | All |

Okay, this is the final battle! What you do here determines whether you get the good ending or the bad ending. To get the bad ending, just kill the boss. He's unusually easy to beat for a final boss, and that's partly because you're not really supposed to do that. If you want to get the good ending, you must have the Chrono Cross element equipped in your grid. To prepare for the battle, fill up everyone's level 1 and level 2 columns with elements of all different colors. Equip Serge with the Chrono Cross element on the level 2 column.



When the battle begins, build up everyone's level to at least 6. When you've satisfied this condition, wait until the boss uses an element. Immediately afterward, use only level 1 (or level 2 if you have to) elements in this order: Yellow, Red, Green, Blue, Black, White. Only the color of the element is important, but the timing is crucial because you must be able to use that sequence of colors without the boss' interruption. Each time an element is used, either by you or the enemy, a sphere of that element's color will appear at the top of the screen. The last seven element colors used are displayed. You can use this to check to see if the order of the colors is correct or not. If the order gets screwed up, you'll have to start over. When all six elements are cast in order, have Serge use the Chrono Cross. Once you do this, the battle is over! Sit back and enjoy the ending!

But Wait! There's More!

After you finish the game, you'll be prompted to save the file. If you do this—and load your finished game—two new options called "New Game +" and "Continue Game +" will appear. If you play the game this way, you'll have two special items in your inventory: the Relief Charm and the Time Shifter. The purple time distortion will always be at Opassa Beach during the entire game, so you can battle Time Devourer at different points in time. You'll be able to find up to nine different endings this way! Also, visit The Bend of Time and see what surprises await you!

For years we've been hearing rumors about a Kirby game for the Nintendo 64—Kirby's Air Ride was one of the earliest tiles announced by Nintendo—but we had to wait until the year 2000 for Kirby 64: The Crystal Shards. The game plays like a traditional side-scroller, where you move left to right to complete each level. The goal is to make your way through 28 different levels, release your friends from the Dark Matter and collect all the crystal shards.
Along the way you will be able to steal your enemies' powers to help you locate the shards and defeat the bosses. This walkthrough will help you locate the more difficult shards that are hidden along the way.

Special Powers

The special powers that Kirby inhales are needed to gain certain shards—and they're a lot of fun to use! Half the fun of Kirby 64 is mixing and matching all of the different powers. There are seven different powers that can be combined for twenty-eight different combos. Have fun trying all of them!

Burn + Burn = Forms a large Phoenix

Cutter + Cutter = You can throw a giant boomerang

Burn + Rock = Kirby becomes a walking volcano

Burn + Ice = Kirby will let off a little steam

Burn + Needle = Launch flaming arrows at your enemies

Burn + Bomb = Kirby launches fireworks just like on the 4th of July

Burn + Spark = Kirby bursts into a blazing fireball

Burn + Cutter = Wield a large flaming sword

Stone + Stone = Kirby will transform into a giant boulder

Stone + Spark = Take control of an electrified boulder

Stone + Needle = Kirby becomes a drill that can be fired through walls

Stone + Ice = Kirby changes into a puck that slides across the screen

Stone + Bomb = Toss a little dynamite to clear your way

Stone + Cutter = Kirby becomes one of six stone statues

Ice + Ice = Take the shape of a giant snowball

Ice + Needle = Kirby turns into a large pointy snowflake

Ice + Bomb = Kirby turns into an exploding snowman

Ice + Spark = Take the form of a refrigerator for a late night snack

Ice + Cutter = Kirby laces up his skates and is ready for a little hockey

Needle + Needle = Kirby looks like a walking tool kit

Needle + Bomb = Kirby becomes an exploding spike ball

Needle + Spark = Kirby takes the form of a lightning rod

Needle + Cutter = Kirby's arms transform into giant jaws

Bomb + Bomb = Launch rockets from Kirby's mouth

Bomb + Spark = Kirby lights up any room when he transforms into a light bulb

Bomb + Cutter = Kirby can throw exploding stars with this combo

Spark + Spark = Kirby becomes an exploding spike ball

Spark + Cutter = Kirby wields a two-sided light saber just like Darth Maul

The Crystal Shards You Might Have Missed

Pop Star - Level 1

Locate the black mound with three stars floating above it. To destroy this mound you will need the bomb ability. Drop a bomb on this platform to collect the shard underneath.

To finish off this level you will have to face Waddle Dee. Simply jump or fly over him as he charges. When he passes you, inhale the stars and throw them at Waddle Dee. Keep doing this to collect another shard.

Pop Star - Level 3

In the room just past Adeleine you will find a shard on a ledge above the doorway.

Whispy Woods

Here you are up against Whispy Woods. Whispy's first attack consists of smaller versions of himself. They are easily dispatched with any ability or by inhaling the apples that Whispy showers on your head.
The second attack is its pointy roots. Again these are easily defeated by inhaling the apples that Whispy drops. Collect the final shard from this world once Whispy has been defeated.

Rock Star - Level 2

Make your way to the right until you reach a structure made out of pillars. Fly all the way to the top where the 1-Up is located.
Make your way to the right and drop down one level until you are directly below where the 1-Up was. Once the floor crumbles beneath you, jump to the ledge to the right. Then fly over a small pillar to the left leading you to the shard on the ground floor.

Pop Star - Level 2

Hop onto the platform where Waddle Dee is waiting for you. Ride this platform until you see a couple of stars floating near the bottom of the screen. Jump off the platform to collect the shard beneath these stars. As soon as you collect the shard, quickly fly back up to the platform. If you are not quick enough, you will lose a life here.

At the end of this level you will have to face Adeleine to gain the shard. Inhale the small enemies she sends your way. When you have inhaled enough of the little ones, she will send in Galbo. Inhale and exhale his ice chunks to finish him off. Next you will encounter the Mumbies. Inhale the smaller ones and exhale them towards the larger one. Last but not least, you will face Adeleine herself. Defeat her to finish this level.

Rock Star - Level 1

When you reach the falling blocks that have eyeballs, be sure to fly above the second to find a shard.

Outside again you will see a yellow and brown striped wall. You will need the stone and spark ability to release this shard.

When you enter the building take the first three steps until you see a star. Jump down from here to collect another shard.

to Rock Star-Level 4 ▶

Rock Star - Level 4

When you reach the top you will find Adeleine and three black boxes waiting for you. You will need the spark and bomb combo to light up the room. Remember the three images and enter the next room. Here you will have to push the three platforms that match the images you saw. After you push the three matching platforms, a shard will appear. If you push the wrong button, exit and reenter the room to reset them.

Aqua Star - Level 1

When you encounter the four-level bridge, drop down to the bottom to find a black and blue-checkered block. Use your ice and bomb combo to destroy this section of the bridge. Now jump into the green ball to be launched through the center column and claim the shard hidden inside.

Acro

The final shard of this world is guarded by Acro. Quickly inhale and exhale the enemies he fires at you. Be careful not to inhale any Gordos because they will harm you. Acro will become mad and swim into the background before he lunges at you. Follow his shadow to see where he will crash into the ground. You can usually dodge his attacks by staying near the corners. Just when you thought it was over, Acro will chase you through a vertical tunnel. Stay to the sides and inhale the green fish along the way. After a couple of hits, Acro is finished and the shard is yours.

Neo Star - Level 2

As soon as you enter this area, you will start falling into a deep tunnel. Stay to the left as you fall to collect the shard on your way down.

When you spot the brown and black wall, use your stone and bomb combo to collect the shard. Remember to press Down to use Kirby's helmet; otherwise, you will take a lot of damage.

Pix

Pix consists of three diamonds spinning around a circular platform trying to hit you. Jump over or duck under the spinning diamonds as they pass by. When you reach the top of the platform, inhale the molecules that appear and exhale them toward the diamonds when they come close. Repeat this three times for each diamond to defeat Pix and collect the last shard.

Aqua Star - Level 3

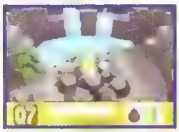
Make your way to the large stone structure in the middle of the wooden bridge. Next, fly up to the top of the structure and drop into the hole there. Inside you will need the bomb and cutter combo to break the wall hiding a shard.



After a really long drop to the bottom of this area, you will have to break the wall to the left with the stone and cutter ability. To obtain this shard is going to take a lot of patience. Use your power combo to transform into a hamster. Once you are in the hamster form, face the left wall and start jumping. The key is to get a steady rhythm going.

Neo Star - Level 1

When you reach a narrow chasm with vines, drop down one ledge to find an out-of-the-way shard.

Neo Star - Level 3

Eventually you will run into Adeleine painting another picture. There are three different paintings: an umbrella, a hat and a pizza. Take note of which picture she is painting, and continue to the next room. Here you will need to recreate the picture you just saw in the crates.

To the right of the green platform you will see a star. Jump down to grab the star and the shard just below it.

Magman

To defeat Magman you will need to jump from platform to platform, avoiding the lava that he sends your way. In between the waves of lava, inhale the Magoos that pop up and exhale them at the lava columns that rise from the ground. Keep repeating this until you go face-to-face with Magman. Again, inhale and exhale any objects at his face to defeat him once and for all.

Shiver Star - Level 3

Ride the conveyor belts up to the top. Then, before you ride the last belt, fly up to the ledge to the left to collect the shard hiding there.
In the room with Adeleine behind a window, she will paint a combination of three fruits. Each fruit represents the color of the switch that needs to be pressed in the next room.

to Shiver Star-Level 4 ▶

Neo Star - Level 4

Use King Dedede's hammer to smash both the top and bottom of the pillar just past the two Galobs to find a shard.

You will reach a room with Chacha and two Bobos dancing in the background. Destroy the pedestal in the center using the ice and bomb combo to gain the shard.

Shiver Star - Level 1

Jump into the third hole in the frozen lake and swim right through the small tunnel to the other side. Once there, collect the shard at the base of the wall to the right.

Shiver Star - Level 2

Go past three small clouds that move up and down and fall through the hole in the large cloud. Do not worry! There is another cloud below and another shard.

When you reach the rotating Zebon, wait until the Zebon looks to the upper left of the screen. Then launch yourself right into a shard and another Zebon.

Shiver Star - Level 4

Before you enter this level, make sure that you have the stone and needle combo. As you descend each level, enter the alcoves to the right and fire a power drill into each box. Repeat until you reach the bottom blue platform, then go right and climb the ladder to collect the shard.

On the fourth level, run all the way to the right to grab the shard before the moving robot crushes you.

Ripple Star - Level 1

Destroy the orange and black pedestal underneath the column of stars using the needle and bomb combo. Grab the hidden shard and move on to the next level.

Ripple Star - Level 3

Locate the room with the red and orange starburst in the floor. Once there, use the fire and needle ability to shoot an arrow into the center of this design. This will reveal another shard for you.

Miracle Matter

When you reach Miracle Matter it will appear in the center of a dark room. To defeat this boss you will need to keep on moving and learn its different attacks. Remember that only like pieces of Miracle Matter will harm it. Inhale pieces of Miracle Matter and quickly exhale them back at it while it remains in the same form. Otherwise, the attack is useless. With some practice and patience you will defeat Miracle Matter and collect the final shard.

HR-H

As soon as HR-H appears, run to the right side of the screen. Jump to dodge his laser beam and arm swing. Inhale one of the rockets that HR-H fires at you, then exhale it at his arms when he claps his hands together. Keep repeating this until HR-H transforms into his second form. Again, inhale and exhale the rockets while dodging his arms. Aim your attacks at the front black area to eventually defeat HR-H. Collect the shard and get ready for the final world.

Ripple Star - Level 2

Before you jump down into the hole by Waddle Dee, make sure that you have the spark ability. Use your ability on the block at the bottom of the hole to discover another shard.

Located to the upper-left of the ring of stars you will discover a shard waiting for you.

In the area where the path is blocked by a lot of crates, locate the green pillar with the shard behind it. Use the cutter ability to break on through to the other side.

Dark Star

If you have collected all the shards along the way, you will then enter Dark Star and see the real ending of the game. There are no shards to collect in this world, so quickly make your way to the end of this level to face O2.

To defeat O2 you will have to continually shoot his large red eyeball while avoiding his attacks. When you have hit his eye a few times, he will lean forward, exposing a band-aid on the top of his head. Shoot at the band-aid until a green, thorny cone appears on his underside. Now focus your attacks on the green cone until it retracts. Again, you will have to start attacking his eyeball. Repeat this strategy until you have finally defeated O2 and destroyed all of the Dark Matter. Now you can enjoy the happy ending of Kirby 64!

MARVEL VS. CAPCOM 2

PART 2

by Jason Wilson

Welcome back for part two of our Marvel vs. Capcom 2 mega strategy guide! Since our last issue was completed, the game has been released for the Sega Dreamcast system, but the information still applies to both versions. Part two will showcase each character's damage capabilities and focus on the 28 fighters who were not covered in our August feature.

Theory

Marvel vs. Capcom 2 is very different from its predecessors. There is no Strong Punch or Forward Kick button to string your attacks like the other games in the "vs." series. You will need to press Jab Punch twice or Short Kick twice for your medium punch or forward kick to appear. This alters gameplay significantly for several reasons. First, you have to actually be close to your opponent, with him or her in blocking position or getting struck. You will also be unable to use either button as an anti-air maneuver or to poke at your opponent with characters that relied on moves like this, such as M. Bison with his standing Forward Kick. Most combination attacks can be done with Jab Punch, Short Kick, Jab Punch and Short Kick in the air. At first, it was believed that the traditional "infinite" combos were not present; however, savvy players have discovered a new type of infinite which can be easily initiated near the corner, particularly when using Ken, Akuma or Thanos.

Universal Move List

Taunt—Press START + Light Kick

Variable Counter—← ↙ ↓ + Partner A or B (requires one level of your Super Meter)
Variable Combination Attack—Press Partner A + B buttons simultaneously (requires two levels of your Super Meter)
Snapback—↓ ↘ → + Partner A or B (forces your opponent to switch characters for a short period of time, disabling one of them; requires one level of your Super Meter)

Damage Chart

The following chart ranks the game's characters in seven different tiers of strength; Tier 1 fighters like the Hulk and Juggernaut have attacks which generally cause much more damage that lower-tier characters like Roll or Kobun. Note that with great strength there usually a corresponding loss of foot speed; on average, the Tier 1 fighters move more slowly than characters who are known to inflict less damage with the average attack.

AMINGO

This new half-plant, half-man is quite strong; as far as Capcom's "vs." games go, he is one of the top characters in the game. The jumping Roundhouse Kick is Amingo's best jump-in technique; you can set up a quick Aerial Rave by adding two jab punches to the end of it.

Captain Commando has various "cheap" tactics that can be used to annoy your opponent and force them into an alternate game plan just to avoid one Super Move. Use Captain Commando's Captain Storm Super Move, then rejuggle your opponent in the air after he has landed on the ground for over 15 hits!

SERVBOT

A "joke" character with a couple of amazing moves. Servbot is only used by players who want to show off or just like to waste money. Sevbot's Super Moves are the only thing going for him. He takes way too much damage and can't dish out enough punishment to be a force. Servbot's Super Rush is the key. It causes more damage if it is blocked than if your opponent is actually hit by it! The King Kobun Super Move is invincible for a short period of time, making matters worse for those who underestimate this character from the Mega Man Legends series.

ANAKARIS

The most underrated fighter in the game, Anakaris is an "experts-only" character. The majority of Anakaris' attacks do high damage and require good skills (at least by Marvel vs. Capcom 2 standards!). Use Anakaris' Ouke no Sabaki Super Move and a combination of chair attacks from Darkstalkers to wear your opponent down.

DHALSIM

Dhalsim is normally a slow character, and Capcom did not do much for him in Marvel vs. Capcom 2 except give him a few decent counter combos and the ability to combo off of a jumping Short Kick drill. Make that your combination staple of choice. Otherwise, Street Fighter anti-air and well-timed limb toasting won't help you in Marvel vs. Capcom 2, the game in which anyone can jump at you!

Felicia is not as agile here as she is in the Darkstalkers series, but she has the ability to counter certain larger characters (Sentinel, Dr. Doom) during ground and super moves. Felicia's Hyper Sand Flash is her number one Super Move when countering direct air Super Moves from other characters.

Guile used to be known as one of the most technical characters in various Street Fighter games—until he warped to the dark side of the "vs." series! Guile can connect all of his Super Moves after any button. Try connecting his Sonic Hurricane after a two-hit crouching Roundhouse for easy damage.

MEGA MAN

As a smaller character, Mega Man fares very well compared to the likes of Roll and Servbot—but he can't hold his own with the big boys in terms of strength and overall composition of gameplay factors. Because Marvel vs. Capcom 2 has turned into a projectile festival, Mega Man's smaller projectiles just can't compete against random Viper Beams from Cable or the "projectile warriors" Magneto and Dr. Doom. Charge up your meter and use the Hyper Mega Man Super Move whenever possible.

Team up Roll with Mega Man and Servbot to embarrass yourself in every arcade across the country! Well, at least Roll's Rush Drill can push your opponent into the corner and set them up for...absolutely nothing. Roll does not have much to exploit, nor does she have the block damage luxury that Servbot maintains. Avoid her, unless you are desperately bored.

SILVER SAMURAI

Silver Samurai is extremely complicated to use, mainly because his moves rely on countering his opponent's actions more than setting up an offensive strategy (much like Bishamon from the Darkstalkers series). If you rely on attacking, use Shurikens from afar and Endless Slashes when close; this should keep your opponent busy while you wait for a mistake that will leave him or her open for the wide variety of Super Moves Silver Samurai has to choose from.

SONSON

Earlier arcade versions of Marvel vs. Capcom 2 had a bug that would freeze the game after Sonson performed her POW Super Move. Imagine if that had been left in the final version! Sonson's Heal Aware spits out a fruit that will partially replenish one of your team members' health meter; exploit this whenever necessary.

SPIRAL

Spiral's entire game plan revolves around her ability to run away, replenish her Dancing Swords and keep hurling them until your opponent becomes frustrated (or your hands get tired). A good Spiral, teamed with Doom (Anti-Air assist) and Cable (Projectile assist) rounds out one of the top three teams in the game. On impact, Spiral can teleport behind her opponent and unleash her Metamorphosis Super Move at will.

None of M. Bison's moves connects normally into any one Super Move, making him a highly skilled character to master effectively. Once a "charge" character, it is interesting to see M. Bison's Double Knee Press and Psycho Shot triggered by standard motions. Use his Psycho Crusher if you are trapped in the corner. This will allow you to safely avoid a possible counterattack because of quick recovery time allotted from this move.

WOLVERINE

(bone claws)

Unlike the Adamantium skeleton Wolverine seen above, this version plays just like the original Wolverine last seen in X-Men vs. Street Fighter! Fans of the crazy-tactical Wolverine from back in 1996 can rejoice over his jubilant return. Of course, the omission of his major infinite combos and ability to connect a Berserker Barrage X from any normal move have been omitted. Beware, Wolverine players: The road to the top is not with Wolverine.

CAUTION SEAMAN™

Dreamcast

by Chris Bieniek

Good morning! Welcome to the laboratory of Jean-Paul Gasse. I'm Leonard Nimoy, and I've been chosen by Sega of America to bring you startling new information about the new Sega Dreamcast game called Seaman. It seems that the editors of Tips & Tricks magazine have recently unearthed several pages of Dr. Gasse's handwritten notes regarding the care and development of the Seaman species. This previously unseen information has been organized into the next few pages to help you create the proper environment in which your own Seaman will...er, live long and prosper. So let us head over to the tank...

STUFF YOU SHOULD KNOW

• The conversations you will have with Seaman are really the focus of the game, and there are no right or wrong answers to the questions that he asks. That being the case, the object of this strategy guide is simply to help you to keep Seaman alive and healthy for as long as possible...because as you might expect you can't converse with a dead Seaman.

• It's extremely important to listen carefully to what Nimoy says each time you return to the lab. He'll tell you almost everything you need to know about basic Seaman care. The only thing he won't tell you is if the creatures in the tank are having more than one problem. That is, if he tells you that "they are suffering from the cold," that's just their most immediate need—it doesn't mean that nothing else is wrong. They may also be hungry and/or lacking oxygen, so be sure to check out the habitat thoroughly.

• It may seem confusing at first, but whenever you have several Gillmen (or Podfish, or Frogmen) in the tank at the same time, it doesn't matter which one you speak to, since they all share the same knowledge that any one of them has acquired.

• Like a Tamagotchi, Seaman appears to live and grow even while the Dreamcast is turned off and you're not watching him. However, to keep you from losing track of his development, the major events in Seaman's evolution will not occur unless you are watching. This is the key to maintaining your own social life while you try to keep up with Seaman's care. Seaman's status in your saved game will not change until you start to play and the game checks the Dreamcast system clock and the VMU clock against the date and time of your last save. If it determines that you haven't looked in on the lab for a week, you'll probably find that all of the creatures are freezing, starving, dehydrated, suffocated or long dead. Conversely, if you're sick of talking to Seaman and you want him to evolve more quickly, you can "cheat" the clock and get full-grown Frogmen in just a day or two of real time. Simply turn on the Dreamcast without the Seaman disc in place and check the date and time of your last Seaman VMU save. Set the Dreamcast system clock to be about 12 hours after that save time and set the VMU clock to match the system clock. Now when you start to play—regardless of whether you've neglected Seaman for days or just saved two minutes ago—the game will think that 12 hours have passed since your last save.

• The Storage Matrix is an important part of maintaining a balanced environment, both in the tank and in the cage. Note that Larvae, Kimoths and seeds can be held in the matrix for an indefinite period of time.

• If you interrupt Nimoy's speech at the beginning of a session by pressing START, he will usually make a coughing sound or sarcastic comment to let you know that you are being rude. Try it just as he's finishing up his speech ("So let us head over to the tank") so you don't miss anything important.

SEAMAN EVOLUTION

SEAMAN DOS, DON'TS AND DON'T BOTHERS

DO...give honest answers to Seaman's questions when he asks them. He will eventually try to shock you by referring to details about your personal life that you may have forgotten you told him about.

DO...tickle Seaman by pointing to him and rapidly tapping the X button. He will eventually start to rock back and forth and beg you to stop...but the important thing is that tickling him leaves a smile on his face.

DO...talk to Seaman as often as possible, even if he's not talking back. The more you talk to him, the faster he will evolve.

DO...take a few seed pods from the cage and drop them into the water tank; they will grow into plants that improve Seaman's environment.

DON'T...feed Seaman unless he's begging for food. Conservation of food is one of the game's trickiest tasks; there's nothing sadder than watching these creatures die because you wasted their food or couldn't figure out how to get more of it.

DON'T...take the dark blue colored Larvae out of the cage; these rare creatures evolve into special orange colored Kimoths which are essential to the reproduction of new eggs.

DON'T...take all of the Larvae out of the cage; you need to leave some behind so they will grow into Kimoths and lay fresh eggs.

DON'T...put the spider in the tank after Seaman reaches the Frogman stage; he will eat the spider and become very sick! Note: If you are DESPERATELY low on food, you may want to consider feeding one of the Frogmen a spider on purpose, because when he's sick he won't eat for a few days. However, this is a cruel solution to an avoidable problem; it's not nice to punish Seaman because of your own inability to maintain a proper food supply.

DON'T...forget to keep the moisture level in the cage as high as possible at all times. Nimoy won't warn you about this because it's not an immediate threat to Seaman's survival, but when you run out of food you'll wish he had.

DON'T BOTHER...trying to keep the Seamen from killing each other; the process of natural selection is a necessary evil.

DON'T BOTHER...dropping Kimoths into the tank when it's filled with water; they'll just get stuck in the water and die. You can feed Kimoths to the Frogmen after the tank is drained, but there's always a risk that the Kimoths will die in the small pool of water that's left over.

DON'T BOTHER...trying to talk to Seaman when he's hungry; he's got a real one-track mind when it comes to food.

DON'T BOTHER...talking to the Kimoths, Larvae, spider or Leonard Nimoy; they're not listening.

CALENDAR OF EVENTS: THE SEAMAN DIARY

The following is a day-by-day recap of what you can expect to happen if you raise your Seaman properly and the approximate days when major events will occur. Note: Your results will surely vary! Depending upon how well you treat Seaman and how much time you spend with him during each visit, you will notice that certain events will take place on different days or in a different order from the sequence of events shown here. Don't panic; these are simply guidelines with some tips to keep your Seaman going strong:

If you're wondering how often you should check on Seaman, the answer is easy to figure out. If you visit only once per day, it's very difficult to maintain the proper environments. (For example, if you forget to spray the cage just once, the result is that the Larvae and plants will go 48 hours without the moisture they need to survive.) On the other hand, if you visit three times a day or more, Nimoy will let you know that such frequent visits are not necessary. Two visits per day is the perfect compromise...and if your life is organized enough to allow you to visit at the same times each day, Nimoy will always compliment you (e.g. "You're doing a good job!"). Remember that you can adjust the Dreamcast system clock and the VMU clock to trick Seaman into thinking that you're visiting regularly (see "Stuff You Should Know").

Day 1 AM

Prepare the tank by turning the oxygen flow up to 100% and activating the heater until the temperature is between 15 and 20. Drop the egg into the tank and wait for the Mushroomers to hatch; there will usually be eight of them. Tap the Nautilus' shell with the R button until it starts to move around and eat the Mushroomers. It must eat at least four in order for them to evolve; if you lead the Mushroomers to it by tapping on the glass at strategic places, you can get the Nautilus to eat as many as six of them. After thrashing around and bleeding for what seems like an eternity, the Nautilus will die as Gillmen burst out of it; the number of Gillmen will equal the number of Mushroomers that were eaten by the Nautilus.

Day 1 PM

The Gillmen are cute; you can tickle them to make them smile. They're not speaking English yet, but you should still speak to them so they can get used to the language. By the end of the first day you may see one of the Gillmen sneak up beneath and attach his tentacle to another; you'll hear a sickening "gloop, gloop" sound as they drink each other's blood, leaving the drained corpse to decompose along with the remaining Mushroomers.

Day 2 AM

At some point during the second day, the Gillmen will begin to speak English. Now you can really start to interact with them via the microphone. But don't get too attached, because...

Day 2 PM

...they will also continue to suck each other's blood until there are only two left. You're lucky if their ranks are thinned before they start to speak intelligibly; if not, you might hear those innocent little Gillmen call out, "What's happening?" in voices that tremble with fear as their siblings drain the life out their bodies. Yep, Seaman can be quite the disturbing game.

Day 3 AM

By the third day the Gillmen's voices should change to a lower register. They will also begin to ask you basic questions about your age and gender. Answer honestly and don't forget to tickle them to give them funny little grins.

Day 3 PM

Around this time the Gillmen should start to ask for food. Feed them one pellet each and no more...and don't forget to duck when they fling their feces at you! They will eventually tell you about an adjoining cage in the laboratory where you can find four eggs. Spray water in the cage until it reaches 100% humidity and keep it up high for the rest of the game. The eggs will hatch into Larvae with grotesque little Seaman faces.

Day 4 AM

Now the Gillmen will expect to be fed every day, usually twice, and they're flinging healthy poops, too. You can give them a Larvae for a treat or keep using up the pellets; two pellets seem to be equal to one Larvae in terms of how filling they are. In the cage, you should see at least one Larvae that has entered the Pupa (cocoon) stage.

Day 4 PM

You will probably have a Kimoth flying around the cage by now; keep the moisture level high so the plants will be healthy and the Larvae will have enough to eat before they enter the cocoon stage. The Gillmen are hungry again so don't mess around!

Day 5 AM

Look for some new eggs in the cage and keep an eye out for one of them to hatch into the special blue Larvae. Seaman should have asked you tons of questions by now; he's gathering Zodiac data about you and your immediate family.

Day 5 PM

You may have to look hard to spot him, but by the end of Day 5 you should have an intruder in the cage. A tiny spider can be seen scurrying around, scavenging for food. You can pick him up and drop him in the water tank to get rid of him, but it doesn't really hurt to let him go about his business, as he will become an important part of the cage's environment before long.

Day 6 AM

Continue to speak to Seaman and answer all of his nosy questions about your family and your self-image; it's the only way to get him to progress to the next stage of his growth. Also around this time, Nimoy will instruct you on how to give Seaman a name. Doing so is an important part of the evolutionary process; almost immediately, you will see the "named" creature change color.

Day 6 PM

By the end of the sixth day you will find that the spider has spun an elaborate web in the corner of the cage. Occasionally, a Kimoth will get tangled in the web and become a victim to the spider's appetite; you'll see the Kimoth's corpse fall to the ground when the spider is finished feasting on the good bits. This sounds like a bad thing, but the fact is that the cage can only hold a limited number of life forms; without the natural life cycle claiming a few Kimoths, you'd never see any new eggs hatching into Larvae.

Day 7 AM

Gillman has a regular routine by now; eating, talking, pooping. You should definitely have one of the special blue Larvae into the cocoon stage by now; the Larvae will cocoon themselves after eating a bunch of leaves and the ones that do so will be noticeably larger than newly-hatched Larvae.

Day 7 PM

Look for the orange Kimoth to have hatched before the end of the seventh day. Don't worry, it won't get caught in the spider's web until it has lived for at least a few days. The Kimoths seem to know when their time is up; you can actually use the hand icon to pluck them out of the web before the spider eats them, but they will always fly right back into the web as if they wish to demonstrate their willingness to accept fate.

Day 8 AM

Around the eighth day, Nimoy will tell you to look for a change in the Gillmen's appearance. Sure enough, they're starting to grow tiny legs.

Day 8 PM

As the Gillmen's legs continue to grow, they will ask more and more nosy questions about your self-image and your perception of what other people think about you. You'll probably see the spider getting more than his fair share of crunchy Kimoth dinners by this time, too.

Day 9 AM

By Day 9, your conversations with Seaman will become incredibly lopsided, due to the limited voice recognition and to the fact that Seaman has nothing better to do than float around, thinking deep thoughts. He'll launch into ten-minute rants about self-esteem, existentialism, 21st-century technology, etc.—and about all you can say is "Want food?" and "Good boy!"

Day 9 PM

If things seem to be progressing at a slow pace, don't worry; the game is about to take a bizarre turn. Just try to be nice to Seaman and maintain both the cage and tank environments properly. If your orange Kimoth gets caught in the web—and you're quick enough—you can save its life by grabbing it and dropping it into the storage matrix. After it eats enough of the ordinary yellow Kimoths, the Spider will eventually die and the web will dissolve; then it's safe to put the orange Kimoth back in the cage.

Day 10 AM

Just when you thought it was safe to look in on your virtual pet, you'll see the two remaining Gillmen mate in a fashion not unlike the way many mammals do it. Stranger still, the "male" ends up dead while the impregnated "female" carries on as if nothing at all happened. In one game, I watched the spent Gillman's corpse float up to the top of the tank as his partner turned to the screen and asked, "So, do you have a computer?"

Day 10 PM

After the shocking reproductive act is completed, Nimoy will refer to the survivor as a Podfish and announce that it's time to modify the tank environment by draining the majority of its water. To do so, you need to "grab" the large rock in the tank with the X and R buttons and pull it to the left while the Podfish pushes it. Unfortunately, there are two reasons why you might not be able to drain the tank in one session. First, Seaman refuses to help you push the rock unless you first answer silly trivia questions with tricky answers (e.g. "Bony fingers"). Second, Seaman gets tired between attempts and wants to rest; it will take three or four good pushes before the rock has cleared the drain.

Day 11 AM
You should have the tank drained by now; only a small reservoir of water remains at the right side of the tank. At this stage, the proper temperature of the tank should be between 20 and 25 degrees.

Day 11 PM
Nimoy makes no bones about what's going to happen next: the pregnant Podfish, he explains, is about to give birth. Relax; there's not much you can do while you wait. Just maintain the tank's heat and the cage's moisture while you listen to Seaman's long, rambling monologues about e-mail and the Internet.

Day 12 AM
"Ah, the sweet ground," exclaims the Podfish as he crawls onto dry land. Unfortunately, he's at the end of his life cycle; hope you didn't get too attached. After some labored grunting, he will deliver as many as six eggs...then die.

Day 12 PM
The eggs will all hatch into Tadmen, which are not only capable of perfect English but have also retained all of the memories of the late Podfish...so you can carry on conversations immediately without even having to introduce yourself. You may want to turn the light down before you leave for the night, as the Tadmen have had a busy day and are quite tired.

Day 13 AM
You'll find that the Tadmen are just as chatty as the Podfish. Keep them talking—they'll go on and on about "that four-eyed guy in Seattle" and how they believe that language is "the greatest tool of all," which is no surprise coming from a creature without opposable thumbs.

Day 13 PM
The cruel circle of life continues ever onward as the Tadmen ruthlessly sneak up on their siblings to drain each other's blood. The only good thing about this barbaric practice is that they're extremely well nourished by the family plasma; from the death of the Podfish to the evolution of the Tadmen into Frogmen, you may go up to six days before anybody asks for a meal. By that time you'll have so much food in the cage that you'll probably be keeping a surplus of Larvae and Kimoths in the storage matrix.

Day 14 AM
Nimoy may not tell you to do this like he did before, but you should give one of the Tadmen a name by using the same method you used for naming the Podfish. As before, the named creature will change color to reflect his/her new status. You might also notice that all of the Tadmen are beginning to grow tiny arms and legs.

Day 14 PM
It's the end of the second week, and if everything is going as described so far, your Tadmen should have killed off enough of their brothers and sisters so that there are only two remaining. If the Tadman that you gave a name to is killed, be sure to name another one.

Day 15 / Day 16
You'll spend the next two days watching the Tadmen evolve as their arms and legs grow long and their tails shorten. Be prepared to answer a lot of questions about your musical tastes, other game systems you may own, the city you live in and the places you've traveled to...and remember that evolution happens faster if you keep up the chatter.

Day 17 AM
I had my worst session ever with a pair of Tadmen who were just about to evolve into Frogmen. They weren't hungry, they didn't want to talk, they barely responded to tickling. As with the Gillmen, things can get very quiet in the last hours of an evolutionary phase.

Day 17 PM
By now the Tadmen are almost human-like, with very long legs and arms with elbows. To complete their evolution into Frogmen, they both walk out of the reservoir and begin to live on land. You'll actually hear them make frog-like croaking sounds as their necks bulge outward! Most importantly, they will tell you about a sprinkler system which has taken the place of the air filtration unit in the tank. You'll want to keep the humidity level up at 100%, just like in the cage.

Day 18 AM
Now that they're at the Frogman stage, the creatures will FINALLY ask for food. Frogmen have the most diverse diets thus far; they will even eat Kimoths, snatching them with their long tongues as the Kimoths come to rest on the rocks in the tank. Use the R button to lure both Frogmen to the left side of the tank—away from the water—before feeding them a Kimoth; this reduces the risk of the Kimoth falling in the water, where it will go to waste. (The same is true of the food pellets, if you happen to have any left.)

Day 18 PM
Warning: Do NOT drop a Spider into a tank with Frogmen! Eating a Spider will make a Frogman very sick, leaving him cranky and listless with a shocking red rash across his face. However—as explained under "Seaman Dos, Don'ts and Don't Bothers"—there may be a good reason for doing this. And if you're lucky, you might also get to see the sick Frogman angrily flip his partner over just for getting in his way as he mopes around the tank!

Day 19 / Day 20
The next few visits will be spent answering Seaman's probing questions about politics and nursing your sick Frogman back to health, if you have one. You may see either or both Frogmen sneezing or wiping their noses on their "sleeves," but this is often just a reaction to a habitat with a temperature that's dropped too low.

Day 21
More action as the two Frogmen decide to mate; you'll see one caress the other before they connect their forehead tentacles together and exchange whatever inhuman substances are passing through those things. Fortunately, nobody dies; in fact, the experience seems to leave Seaman in an enlightened state with clear memories of his shocking past! You may not believe the wild tale he tells you, but you can't resist helping him to jump and grab that mysterious ring that's been hanging from the top of the tank since the game began. How many attempts will he make before he finally gets it...and what happens when he does? Only Dr. Gasse knows, but it's your turn to find out!

Valkyrie Profile

by Charlotte Chen

VALKYRIE PROFILE

Valkyrie Profile is an action/RPG by Enix that deftly integrates 2-D and 3-D with a Norse mythology slant. The 2-D action is a refreshing change from other RPGs where you randomly encounter enemies on a large 3-D map. Instead, you go through dungeons with a side view that allows you to see your enemy coming. In the 3-D mode, you can use various godly abilities like booting your recruits into heaven or making new places appear on the world below. Although many hardcore fans of the Dragon Quest (a.k.a. Dragon Warrior) series are still awaiting the arrival of the seventh installment in the United States, the two-disc Valkyrie Profile should at least whet, if not sate their appetite for an Enix role-playing game.

Spiritual Concentration

When Valkyrie is flying in 3-D mode, she can use the skill "Spiritual Concentration." To do so is to use her telepathic powers to hear the humans in the next town she wants to go to...or to find dungeons where her peons may be trained. This is the only way to progress in the game, so perform Spiritual Concentration whenever you're not sure where to go next

Divine Item, Materialize Points, Transmute and Convert MP

Valkyrie Profile has a unique system in which you divine items out of thin air. This process of divination requires Valkyrie to spend Materialize Points, which operate like cash. It costs a certain amount of Materialize Points to create an item, and more valuable items require more Materialize Points. There are two ways in which Valkyrie can earn more Materialize Points. One is to use the "Convert MP" function to resolve an item back into Materialize Points at half their value, much like selling back your items at a store. The other method is to be granted Materialize Points after each Chapter. Depending on how well you're performing in the game, Freya will give you more or less Materialize Points. It is also possible to create items through the "Transmute" function, which turns one item into another. Some items in the game are valuable only by virtue of what they can be transmuted into. Divine Item can only be accomplished on the 3-D map, or when standing in a Memory Camp in a dungeon.

Event Experience

After defeating bosses, Valkyrie will gain Event Experience in addition to regular experience points. Event Experience is also earned when certain events are triggered within dungeons. These are saved up in the Experience Orb, which acts as a communal source of experience for the entire party. You can distribute these points freely among the characters at your discretion

Capacity Points, Skills and Traits

• Capacity Points—The Einherjar and Valkyrie will earn Capacity Points each time they gain a level. Between Level 1 and Level 2 the characters earn an additional 70 CP. This CP increase goes up by five points each time you raise a level, so you earn 75 points between Level 2 and 3, 80 points between Level 3 and 4, etc. The Capacity Points are spent to learn Skills and improve Traits.

• Skills—Skills are abilities that you can teach characters through the expenditure of their Capacity Points. Some Skills have several levels of achievement; therefore you will need to spend more Capacity Points to gain higher levels of Skill. There are four varieties of Skills:

1. Reaction: During battle, these skills will be automatically activated. For example, if First Aid is learned, characters will automatically heal one another.

2. Support: These skills enhance the character's normal attacks.

3. Attack: Attack skills let you perform more powerful attacks, like knock-out blows, with varying degrees of success.

4. Status: These will improve your character's statistics, such as attack power, defense, etc.

• Traits—The humans that Valkyrie recruits are not perfect. Their traits will range from positive to negative and will affect their Hero Value, which must be fairly high for the character to succeed in the holy war. By spending Capacity Points to increase positive and decrease negative traits, the character's Hero Value will rise. Also, each time a character gains one level, his or her Hero Value will increase by two points.

Abilities

Each character can perform up to three normal attacks in one round, depending on the type of weapon equipped. A weapon with parameters that read "1.o 2.x 3.x" can only be used for a character's first normal attack. "1.o 2.x 3.o" means that the character can use both the first and third normal attacks, while "1.o 2.o 3.o" means he or she can use all three normal attacks. The following is an example of how these abilities are set for the character Jun while he is wielding the Ten-Horin Blade, which allows three attacks.

If you read the topics related to each attack, you can see in which direction Jun will attack, which will help you to decide which order is best for completing combos. Also, when a character has learned the skill "Counter Attack," you can set this parameter. A Counter Attack can be any of the character's currently available normal attacks. However, it is impossible to change the Special Attack, which is a default setting for every character except for magic users.

Mages

The magic user's abilities vary greatly from those of the other characters. Instead of attacking physically, mages are restricted to using spells exclusively. Every spell the mage learns is listed in his or her ability screen, and one spell can be selected to be the mage's current attack. This will allow the mage to attack one enemy with magic without having to select it from the spell book; however, using magic in this way is generally less powerful. A mage's Special Attack will vary according to which spell is currently selected. For example, if Fire Storm is the selected spell, the mage will use Ifrit Caress during Special Attacks

Properties of Crystals

Although Valkyrie has many talents she can use in a dungeon, the one with the most diversity is her ability to shoot crystals.

• Crystals can be used as steps. If Valkyrie shoots a crystal onto a surface, it will adhere. This works on walls, floors and ceilings. Also, when Valkyrie shatters a crystal with a sword, the shards can be stacked to create a platform.

• Crystals can be used to avoid enemies. If Valkyrie shoots a crystal into an enemy, it will become encased in crystal for several seconds. When enemies are in this state it is possible to push and pull them. Some larger enemies, like Dragon Servants and Manticores, cannot be contained with crystal.

• Crystals can be used to create mid-air platforms. Doing this requires Valkyrie to build a large crystal, then shatter it by shooting another crystal into it. The crystals will dissolve into a circular sphere of sparkling dust. If Valkyrie leaps directly into the center of the sphere, it will hold her weight briefly.

Battle System

Characters are positioned to correspond to buttons on the PlayStation's controller. Characters standing at the , and positions are in the front, while is to the rear. Put weaker characters in the back, since many monsters are unable to hit the back of the party. This is also a good position for archers and mages, who are the only characters who can launch an assault from the rear-guard position.

• Combinations: Each character has the ability to chain up to three normal attacks during one round, depending on their weapon. When one character completes a combo, a second can jump in to continue it It is by using combinations that you build up enough energy to unleash your Special Attacks.

• Special Attacks:
The Special Attack gauge appears in the bottom left of the battle window to indicate how many hits your party has landed on one enemy. If you get 100 hits, you'll be able to use a Special Attack. Additionally, if your Special Attack hits the enemy up to 100 times, then another character can use a Special Attack immediately afterwards. Chaining Special Attacks in this way is extremely powerful, and is a good tactic to use against bosses and other difficult enemies

• Charge Turn—Using Special Attacks or magic will increase a character's CT (Charge Turn). This is the gauge that appears under the character's health meter to show how many turns they must wait before they can use their Special Attack or magic again

• Magic Crystals:
If you hit an enemy while they are in mid-air, blue crystals will pop out Whenever you get a blue crystal, the total amount of experience points you earn will increase by 5%

• Purple Gems: If you hit an enemy while it is on the ground and knock out a purple gem, your CT will be reduced by one.

• War Trophies: Sometimes you can knock a chest out of an opponent, especially when stringing together combos. After the battle, the contents of the treasure chest will be revealed

Major Event / Boss Battles:

Disc One (Normal Mode)

Valkyrie Profile has three modes (Easy, Normal, Hard) and three endings (A, B, C). This strategy was written for Normal Mode, in order to attain the best ending (A). Fifteen minutes pass between the start of the game and the first save point, so be sure to walk the dog and feed the chickens before you begin.
Valkyrie's Spiritual Concentration can manifest two types of locations towns (which appear on the World Map in white) and dungeons (which appear in red). When entering a dungeon, you control Valkyrie through a 2-D world where she and the Einherjar can find items and gain experience. Her repertoire of moves is much larger in these dungeons.
There is an introductory period where Freya guides Valkyrie through Artolia and the Artolian Mountain Ruins. Afterward, the game will divide into eight Chapters, each composed of 24 Periods. Between every Chapter is a Sacred Phase during which Valkyrie can communicate with Freya. Here's a breakdown of how Periods are spent:

• 1 Period
- Entering a town
- Resting on the World Map to restore DME.

• 2 Periods
- Using Spiritual Concentration to find a location
- Entering a dungeon.
- Resting on the World Map to restore DME and cure status abnormalities.

• 3 Periods
- Resting on the World Map to restore DME, cure status abnormalities, and revive.

The following major events describe the dungeons in the order they appeared according to Spiritual Concentration as I played through the game. To keep some of the game's surprises and plot twists intact, I have included no "spoilers" detailing the recruitment stories surrounding Valkyrie's accumulation of Einherjar.

Introduction

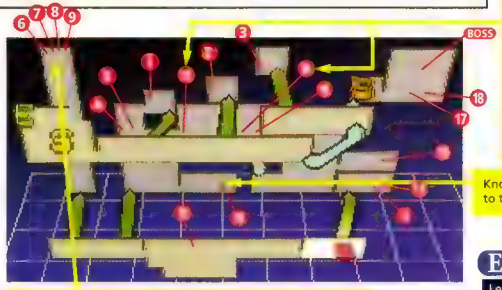
15. Vegetable Seed
16. Lapis Lazuli
17. Sealed Box
18. Jewelled Blade "Grimrist"
19. Pillar

To get the Vegetable Seed and Treasure Search in the room before the stairs leading down to the boss, use crystals to reach the top platform on the right and get the Vegetable Seed. Then pick up the open treasure chest and move it slightly closer to the left and place it down GENTLY (press Down and push ). Stand on the treasure chest so Valkyrie can leap to the platform on the left and pick up Treasure Search. The Treasure Search is a handy item that only Valkyrie can equip. When she's wearing it, a blue dot will circle around her to indicate the presence of treasure nearby.



In order to reach the Angel Curio, Savory, Quartz Gem and Nightshade treasure chests, you'll need to use Valkyrie's crystals to create a stairway all the way to the top

Knock down the base of the pillar that blocks your access to the eastern side of the dungeon for 500 Event Exp

Additional Event Experience 3,000

Enemies

| | | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| Lesser Vampire | 400 HP | no weakness | 150 Exp. |
| Ghast | [illegible] | [illegible] | [illegible] |
| Pongo | 1,000 HP | no weakness | 175 Exp. |

Artifacts

|---|---|
| Jewelled Blade "Grimrist" | [illegible] Event Exp. |
| Sealed Box | [illegible]00 Event Exp. |

Note: After every major boss battle, Valkyrie has the opportunity to return Artifacts to Lord Odin or keep them for herself. Her Evaluation Points will go up one point for every Artifact she sacrifices and down five points for every Artifact she steals. In order to decide which artifacts to keep, save your game before opening any of the chests, then inspect the artifacts. When you decide what to keep, reload your game and give up the artifacts that you have no use for. Merely opening these boxes will give you Event Experience regardless of what you do with the Artifacts; after all the Artifacts have been inspected, Valkyrie is always granted additional Event Experience.

Boss

| | | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| Elder Vampire | 4,800 HP | no weakness | 1,000 Exp. |
| Dragon Servant (2) | 500 HP | Weak: Ice | 300 Exp. |

Use the blade "Reiter Pallasch" to perform Guard Crush, which can cut through the Dragon Servant's Combo Guard. Press the button corresponding to Valkyrie multiple times in succession and she will execute a combination attack. Attack simultaneously with the other characters while she is in the midst of her combo; for example have her attack twice, then have Arngrim attack, and immediately follow-up with Valkyrie's third strike. The Elder Vampire will use some magic attacks, like Fire Lance and Shadow Servant, but for the most part this battle is ostensibly over when the Dragon Servants go down

Solde Catacombs

The Magic Pow and Frigid Damsel books are found in the same room as the boss, on elevated platforms.

Boss

Make sure that Valkyrie is equipped with the Angel Curio and the Short Bow before the battle. The Drow Shaman will tend to concentrate all their attacks on one party member until they die. With Angel Curio, Valkyrie will revive automatically after being killed. Once Valkyrie dies, the other characters have three rounds to revive her, otherwise they will also die. Valkyrie and Jelanda should hit the Drow Shaman with magic and bows. If you've picked up Llewelyn, make sure he is also equipped with a bow; this battle should be no problem.

| | | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| Drow Shaman (2) | 1,000 HP | no weakness | 500 Exp. |
| Ramapithicus | [illegible],000 HP | no weakness | 3,800 Exp. |

Forest of Woe

2. Icicle Edge
3. Element Scepter
4. Element Scepter
5. Lapis Lazuli
6. Flare Crystal
7. Extreme Guard
8. Phoenix Feather

Boss

You have the choice of patience or impatience in this battle. If you can't stand the sight of those dirty apes, throw one Flare Crystal and watch them bake. I would be all right with this, if these enemies were of a caliber that could wipe YOU out in one swipe, but they just ain't. Get down in the dirt and fight the honorable way. If you get enough blue crystals to pop out of their furry white behinds, you could double the amount of experience you would normally get; you might also get some items and you can save your Flare Crystals for when you really need them

| | | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| Insane Yetis | 5,200 HP | Weak: Fire | 700 Exp. |

Artifacts

|---|---|
| Extreme Guard | [illegible] |
| Phoenix Feather | [illegible] Exp. |

Cave of Oblivion

The interior formation, the items, the enemies and the location on the world map changes each time Valkyrie discovers the Cave of Oblivion. The purpose of the cave is to level up your characters, although at some points there may be monsters within that are out of your league. Make sure Valkyrie is equipped with Treasure Search while inside, because the treasures tend to be obscured by parts of the cave. Since the appearance of the cave and the treasures inside are randomly determined, I won't mention the cave again for the rest of this strategy. Just remember that Valkyrie's Spiritual Concentration usually finds one Cave of Oblivion per Chapter. The best policy is to save before entering any of the caves, then check what items are inside. If you're not satisfied, load your game and try again.

EXTRAS

Once Valkyrie's Spiritual Concentration no longer finds new towns or dungeons, you're free to explore on your own. Use the remaining Periods to pick up new items and re-enter dungeons to gain more levels. If you're lazy, you can also just sleep the rest of the Periods away. It's a safe bet that the towns in which you picked up Einherjar contain items that you can find if you return to them later.

Artolia

Head back to Arngrim's house. Once you enter his room, he'll give you the Dragon Slayer sword. This is an incredibly powerful sword which can kill a dragon with one blow, which is very useful in the upcoming dungeons.

Crell Monferaigne

Go all the way to the right until you enter the forest. Llewelyn will pick up the Goddess Pendant.

Lassen

Walk inside Lord Belenus' mansion and enter Asaka's room. Belenus will find the Pressed Flower

SACRED PHASE (Chapter 1-2)

The Sacred Phase is the time between Chapters when Freya updates you on the status of the war raging in Asgard. She will praise or critique your performance, grant you Materialize Points and Artifacts and request an Einherjar with specific skills. During the first Sacred Phase, you will not be granted any Artifacts and are basically in the doghouse with Lord Odin, but don't worry about this. As you progress in the game, your status with the boss will steadily improve.

Get Materialize Points 2,250

Einherjar Requested
- Hero Value 50
- Identify
- Leadership
- Tactics

Chapter TWO

Now you need to choose a character to transfer to Asgard. If you maintain a steady stream by sending up one person every Chapter, then you should keep a decent Evaluation score, even if you've swiped a few Artifacts. I hoarded both Capacity Points and Experience Orb points until this point so I could distribute them according to Freya's requests. Personally, I chose to send up Lord Belenus, since Arngrim will not be accepted into Asgard. Raise his Hero Value by improving his traits and teach him the skills required. Equip him well but not with anything you don't want to lose, because he will not return. Transfer him up to Asgard.

Boss

Use Arngrim's Dragon Slayer and the dragon will be beat down in one round. It is also possible to wipe it out in one round by using a Holy Crystal, which can be found in Nethov Swamp, or by transmuting your Flare Crystal into different forms until it becomes a Holy Crystal. After the battle, make sure to unequip the Dragon Slayer because it will break after several uses.

| | | |
|---|---|---|
| Lesser Dragon | 9,000 HP | Weak: Lightning/Poison |

12. Cure Condition (partially submerged in swamp)
13. Quartz Gem (fully submerged in swamp)
14. Daemon Slayer (fully submerged in swamp)
15. Bark of the Dryad
16. Inscribed Fragment

Knock down the rotten tree for 5,000 Event EXP. It will float to the other side of the swamp and create a foothold to reach the eastern part of the dungeon.

Boss This is just like the previous battle; the Dragon Slayer or the Holy Crystal will destroy the boss in one round. Unequip the Dragon Slayer after the battle

| Dragon Zombie | 13,400 HP | Weak: Fire/Lightning/Holy | 6,000 Exp. |
|---|---|---|---|

EXTRAS Valkyrie's Soul Concentration will not manifest any more locations for the rest of Chapter 2. Use the remaining periods to gain levels by re-entering the dungeons.

SACRED PHASE (Chapter 2-3)

| Get Materialize Points | Einherjar Requested | Get Artifacts | |
|---|---|---|---|
| 6,780 | Hero Value 65 | Element Scepter | Heal |
| | Archer | Lightning Bolt | Throw |
| | Find Trap | Shadow Servant | Extreme Guard |
| | Survival | Splash | Emerald Necklace |

Chapter THREE

Transfer Llewelyn after you assign him all the traits required and equip him appropriately. You may need to raise him a few levels before he attains a Hero Value of 65. It's okay to send up Einherjar that do not perfectly fit Freya's request, but this will result in getting fewer Materialize Points and Artifacts during the Sacred Phase.

Gorhla Cult Headquarters

The Poison Check, Fairy Ring, and Ether Scepter are among the best items in this dungeon, but are also the hardest to get. They're in the same room as the boss, on platforms jutting out from the left and right sides, near the ceiling It will not be possible to reach them until after you have defeated the boss, since you'll need to utilize the Artifact chests to create leverage. Build a few crystals, then shatter them so you get some medium-sized crystal shards. Make a step with several crystals and the treasure chests. Then shoot crystals up at the ceiling near the edge of one of the platforms. You may need to maneuver a little to find the position where your crystals will adhere to the bottom of the platform. Once you find this spot, shoot at the crystals until you break it into a sphere of crystal dust. Get up on the step you built, then jump into the dust Once you get a foothold, inch towards the edge until you have room to jump to the chain. You will be able to grip it if you jump and press Up Now you can jump to one of the platforms to get the items, then move to the other platform by using the chain.

1. Guts
2. Eye of Heaven

| Thaumaturgist | 2,200 HP | Weak: Poison | 800 Exp. |

Boss Concentrate all your attacks on one individual Will O' Wisp, connecting enough combos to perform several Special Attacks. You must try to completely destroy it, or else it will self-destruct on its next turn causing significant damage to your entire party The Will O' Wisp will self-destruct when it is low on HP

| | | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| Noble Vampire | 10,500 HP | no weakness | 9,000 Exp. |

Hai-Lan

On the seashore, Yumei will find the Fragment of Lapis Gem.

Crell Monferaigne

Go to Janus' house to retrieve the Raven Slayer. This is an incredibly powerful bow that will kill any flying enemy with one blow.

Camille

When you enter the graveyard, Kashell will discover his sword Vainslayer. Walk all the way to the left, and inspect the large doors. They will swing open and grant you entrance to the oddrock caves.

Oddrock Caves

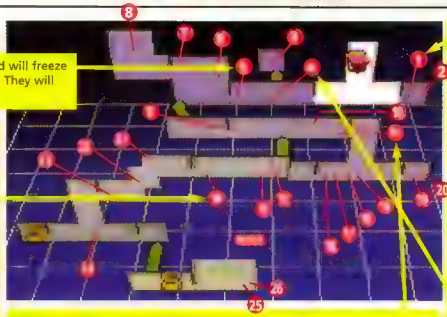
These eyes are located on the ceiling, and will freeze Valkyrie if she gets caught in their beam. They will charge up right before shooting.

In this case you will have to reflect the beam several times in one room so that the beam bounces off the floor and ceiling to reach the second oozing purple barrier that is several screens away. Watch where the beam falls on the floor or ceiling and build your crystal there. If it's off the mark, destroy the crystal and build another one in the correct position (you may only have three crystals on a screen at any given time; if you build more than three, your oldest crystal will disappear). You earn 12,000 Event EXP to pass the second purple ooze barrier



This is the first of three Dragon Zombies scattered throughout the caves. Use Arngrim's Dragon Slayer sword to defeat them easily, but remember to unequip it after the battles, because it is likely to break if overused.

There are several of these statues, and they will temporarily freeze Valkyrie if she encounters the vapor trailing behind the statue. Follow it carefully until it turns around, then leap over it.

This is the first of several oozing purple barriers that block off certain passages, most of which are relatively near an ice-beam shooting eye. Use Valkyrie's crystals to reflect the ice-beam to freeze the purple ooze, then strike it with your sword. You earn 6,000 Event EXP to pass the first barrier.

Additional Event Experience 30,000

There are several factors that will raise or lower Valkyrie's Seal Rating, which can be found in her Status screen.

(+12) Sending a character to Asgard
(-2) Recruiting characters
(-2) Not wearing Nibelungen Ring during Sacred Phase
(-10) Meeting Brahms
(-10) Meeting Lezard
(-15) Meeting Mystina
(-15) Meeting Lucian in Gerabellum before he dies in Chapter 5
(-15) Visiting the grave at Weeping Lily Meadow
(-20) Recruiting Lucian

Begin Preparation to Get Ending "A"

Before Chapter Four begins, it will be necessary to begin planning to get the best ending in the game, indicated as Ending "A." These are the following incidents that must occur for you to get the best ending

You will know you've performed everything correctly if you see a cinema involving Lucian and a betrayal at the end of Sacred Phase (Chapter 6-7). If you do NOT see this, then you are not going to get the best ending.

1. You must recruit Lucian and send him to Asgard before the end of Chapter 6.
2. You must go into Brahms' Castle and choose NOT to fight him.
3. You must recruit Mystina.
4. By the end of Chapter 6, Valkyrie's Seal Rating must be under 37 and remain low until the end of the game. At the end if she is at 40 or below, you will get the good ending.
5. Visit Weeping Lily Meadow when it is indicated via Soul Concentration during Chapter 8.

Chapter FOUR

Give one of your Einherjar all the qualities Freya requested, then transfer them to Asgard. Valkyrie's Seal Rating will probably be at 100 at this point. Remove her Nibelungen Ring for the rest of the game.

Black Dream Tower

Additional Event Experience 55,000

Enemies

| | | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| Monstrous Glowfly | 7,000 HP | Weak: Dark | 3,300 Exp. |

| Harpy | [illegible] | [illegible] | [illegible] |
| Lesser Demon | 2,400 HP | no weakness | 650 Exp. |

Artifacts

|---|---|
| Bewitching Statue | 2,100 Event Exp. |
| Fairy Bottle | [illegible] Event Exp. |

Boss The Wise Sorceror will use Dark Savior, Shadow Servant and other strong magic attacks on one character. Make sure Valkyrie has the Angel Curio equipped, or Guts set up as one of her Skills. Have your mage cast Reflect Sorcery near the beginning to counteract these spells. As for the Dragon-Tooth Warrior, he will only use sword techniques to attack you, which you can easily parry or Counter Attack Both these enemies have tons of HP, so concentrate your Special Attacks on one at a time. If your mage has Wait Reaction set up as a Skill, use their familiar to lead off combination attacks.

|---|---|---|---|---|
| Dragon-Tooth Warrior | 15,000 HP | Weak: Holy | 3,600 Exp. |
| Wise Sorceror | 12,500 HP | no weakness | 1,500 Exp. |

*Note: Although it may be tempting to transmute these artifacts into the Gem of Creation and the Gem of Activity, you should save them for when you go to the Tower of Lezard Valeth. Valkyrie can find the Creation Gem inside the tower, which will let her transmute the artifacts into even better items—a Creation Jewel and a Unicorn's Horn scepter. When Valkyrie has the Creation Gem equipped, the Fairy Bottle will transmute into an Orihalcon, which can then be transmuted into a Creation Jewel. The Creation Jewel can be used to transmute the Bewitching Statue into a Unicorn Horn, which can then be transmuted into the Unicorns' Horn, an incredibly powerful and unbreakable scepter.

Boss One Flare Crystal will kill all three Crab Giants. If you'd rather not use items, make sure your mage knows Fire Storm or Fire Lance, because you can't do very much damage to the crabs physically. Once they're out of the way, use combos and Special Attacks to wear down the Kraken. The Kraken uses Lightning Bolt and Tentacle Whip, neither of which is a particularly strong attack If you keep your health up and have First Aid set up as a Skill on several of your characters, then you should do all right.

| | | | |

| Kraken | 24,000 HP | Weak: Fire | 24,000 Exp. |
| Crab Giant (3) | 1,000 HP | Weak: Fire | 600 Exp. |

Hit the floating sphere through the waterfall with a crystal to earn 2,000 Event Experience.

Speak to the sorceress. She will warn you that the sluice gate is about to break. If you then inspect the body on the ground, you'll pick up the tool needed to reseal the gate. After defeating the boss, speak to the sorceress a second time to earn 500 Event Experience.

Tower of Lezard Valeth

The following is a comprehensive walkthrough for the entire tower. If you want to take a quick route to the basement, skip to the paragraph with the heading "Quick Route to Basement."

Walkthrough

When you first enter the tower, you'll be on the top floor. There are two elevators to your left. Take the first elevator down one floor and exit to the rear. Walk all the way to the left and you will encounter a Manticore. Turn around and walk all the way to the right, then to the front, then all the way to the left. Go up the stairs and walk to the right. Fight the Manticore, then go all the way to the right to pick up a Book of Everlasting Life. Backtrack to get on the elevator, then descend another floor. You can walk all the way around and back to the elevator. Get on the elevator and you will return to the top floor. Now get on the second elevator and go down one floor. Exit, then pick up the Warhammer and Eye of Heaven. Get back on the elevator, exit to the front, then walk all the way to the right to pick up Splash. Turn around and go all the way to the left to encounter a blue Dragon Zombie. Defeat it, then go to the rear. Walk all the way to the right and go to the front—you will descend one story. Now you have two options: 1) Go into the first door on the left, or 2) Walk all the way to the left.

1) If you go into the door, you'll be in another elevator. Take it down one floor, then exit to the rear. You can walk all the way to the left to fight two Dragon Zombies that are in front of the Teachings of Asa. If you'd rather not, head to the right and go down one floor. You'll be in the basement. (Skip to "Basement.")

2) If you go all the way to the left, head to the rear, go to the right, then go to the front—you will descend one floor again. There's another juncture at this point. You can choose to 3) Go all the way to the left, or 4) Enter the first door on the left.

3) If you go all the way to the left, you'll fight another Manticore. Behind the Manticore are Nightshade and Frigid Damsel. Head to the rear and get on the elevator. If you go down one floor, you'll enter the torture chamber where Lezard held the Elf. Leave the room and get back on the elevator. It will return you the the top floor. Refer to the "Quick Route" below to return to the basement.

4) If you enter the door, it is another elevator. If you ride it one floor you will end up in the torture chamber. Ride it once more and it returns you to the top of the tower. Refer to the "Quick Route" below to return to the basement.

Quick Route to Basement
If you don't like to battle—and don't mind missing a few items—take this route. From the save point, go to the left and enter the second elevator. Go down one floor, getting the Warhammer and Eye of Heaven. Get back on the elevator and go down another floor. Walk to the left and fight the Dragon Zombie. Go the the rear, walk to the right, then walk to the front. Enter the first door on the left and take the elevator down one floor. Exit to the rear, go the the right, then move to the front to descend one floor. You'll be in the basement.

Basement
Head to the left and fight yet another Manticore. Walk to the left, then go to the rear. You have a choice of 1) Going to the right, or 2) Going down the stairs.

1) Go to the right and walk down the stairs. Head to the rear. Go up the stairs and you will face another Manticore. Go into the room behind the Manticore and strike the blue crystal in the statue's hands. You will earn 12,000 Event EXP.

2) Go down the stairs and go to the rear. Walk up the stairs and go to the left. You have the option of either 3) Going down the stairs, or 4) Walking to the front.

3) Go down the stairs and go to the front. Walk up the stairs and go to the front again. Walk down the stairs and you will encounter two Dragon Zombies guarding a doorway. Go through the door and strike the crystal in the statue's hands. You will earn 12,000 Event EXP. After this, go back to the first room in the basement where the Manticore was standing; you'll find a teleporter. It will take you to a new part of the tower where you can pick up three treasures: a Creation Gem, a Timer Ring and an Ether Scepter. When Valkyrie has the Creation Gem equipped, she can transmute more powerful items than normal. Use it to transmute the Fairy Bottle into an Orihalcon, and the Orihalcon into the Creation Jewel. With the Creation Jewel, Valkyrie can transmute incredibly powerful items and weapons.

4) Walk to the front and go down the stairs. Walk to the front again and you'll come to a room with a Memory Camp, a teleporter and three chests. Get the three chests first. They contain a Dancing Sword, Lapis Lazuli and Citrine. Now save your game, then get on the white circle and choose to teleport. Jump over the teleporter to the right and get the two chests. They have Base Metal and Normalize. Go back to the left and through the door to find Lezard.

Enemies

| | | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| Blood Sucker | 4,000 HP | no weakness | 800 Exp. |
| Dragon-Tooth Warrior | 15,000 HP | Weak [illegible] | [illegible] |
| Fatal Glimmer | [illegible] | [illegible] | [illegible] |
| Wise Sorceror | 4,400 HP | Weak: Poison | 1,750 Exp. |

Mini Bosses

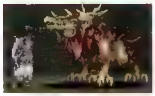
| | | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| Dragon Zombie | 24,000 HP | Weak: Lightning | 10,000 Exp. |

Arngrim's Dragon Slayer is enough for one, but sometime these dragons will be encountered in pairs. Make sure your party has a lot of DME (Divine Material Energy) by upping the level of their Survival skills, just in case the Dragon Zombie successfully uses Combo Guard. In this case they may survive long enough to hit your party for about 15,000 points of damage each, so keep a close eye on your health and combine your attacks to break through perfect guard.

| | | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| Manticore | 13,000 HP | no weakness | 6,500 Exp. |



If you use combo attacks and Special Attacks, you should be able to take out the Manticores fairly easily. However, if the Manticore survives with a small amount of HP, it will immediately use its strongest attack: a triple-threat with flames, poison and freeze attacking your entire party. If you have Cure Condition set up for all of your party members, they should automatically cure one another. Make sure your mage knows Heal and equip her with Freeze Check. You can also use Nectar Potion to protect one character from abnormal status for two rounds, or use Noble Banish to cure all party members of any status abnormality.

EXTRAS

Use the extra Periods to begin lowering Valkyrie's Seal Rating

Boss

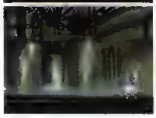
This battle integrates the use of possession to revive each subsequent character. For example, once you kill one of the Dragon-Tooth Warriors, all others in the party will regain full health. In this particular battle, once you kill both Dragon-Tooth Warriors, Lezard will regain full health. During the initial battle, take out the Dragon-Tooth Warriors first and ignore Lezard. It doesn't matter if you defeat Lezard in this first battle; he will regenerate at full health after the Dragon-Tooth Warriors are killed. Watch out for Lezard's Special Attacks (Celestial Star, Meteor Swarm and Dragon Bolt). All of them will hit your entire party four or five times at more than 2,000 damage per hit. It is vital that Valkyrie remain alive, so equip her with Angel Curio and set Guts as one of her Skills. Reserve your mage to heal your party, so you don't waste turns waiting to recharge. If you use your Special Attacks on Lezard and don't skimp on the healing, eventually Lezard will succumb.



| | | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| Lezard | 10,000 HP | no weakness | 40,000 Exp. |
| Dragon-Tooth Warrior | 14,000 HP | no weakness | 2,500 Exp. |

Weeping Lily Meadow

This is the white dot on the northwest of the map, lying to the east of Coriander Village.

Gerabellum

When you enter, a story should begin revolving around Claire, Valkyrie and Lucian. This town lies in the southwest, below the town of Lassen.

Hai-Lan

Return to the Pleiades Shrine and Minayo will give you Dragonbane.

End of Disc ONE

Chapter FIVE

At the beginning of this Chapter, Valkyrie's Seal Rating should be 49. Remember that you need to lower Valkyrie's Seal Rating below 37 by the time Chapter 6 ends, and that you need to transfer Lucian to Asgard before the end of Chapter 6 as well. For now, transfer Jun to Asgard, then play as you normally would until there are no more places to be found with Spiritual Concentration.

Arkdain Ruins

Most of the chests in this dungeon contain monsters and items. The monsters cannot be avoided.

Boss

Equip the Stun Check on Valkyrie and set up Guts for all your characters, since the Raver Lords can do a significant amount of damage and all three will tend to go for one character. If you've saved up some Crystals, I would recommend tossing a couple of Poison Crystals at them to make this battle much easier

| Star Guard | 2,600 Event Exp. |

Flenceburg

Climb up the stairs to Mystina's room and she will pick up the Infinity Rod.

Castle of Brahms

As soon as you enter, a timer starts counting down from 4:00. This gives you just enough time to rush through and pick up the many valuable items scattered throughout the rooms. Valkyrie can encounter two bosses in the castle: the Ram Guardian and Brahms. When you are given a choice, do not fight ABrahms, since you can't get the best ending if you fight him. Choose "Pause to Consider" so Valkyrie's Seal Rating will decrease by 10 points.

Mini Bosses

He's standing in the end of a hallway minding his own business. You may choose not to fight him if you aren't in the mood, but he does give you a lot of experience. There are rooms to the rear and front of him where you can pick up items to use in your battle. Teach Jelanda, Nanami or Yumei the Stone Torch spell. If you successfully stone the Ram Guardian it will be unable to move for up to four turns. Unleash your combos and Special Attacks until it recovers, then use the Stone Torch spell again. If it doesn't stone him, the Ram Guardian will kill one of your characters, so make sure you have some Union Plumes handy. Once he's down to a little less than half energy, you can use your Holy Crystals to defeat him.

| | | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| Ram Guardian | 25,000 HP | no weakness | 13,000 Exp. |

Use your Creation Jewel to transform this into the Unicorn's Horn, an incredibly powerful scepter. If you don't have your Creation Jewel yet, this is what you need to do: Equip the Creation Gem that you found in the Tower of Lezard Valeth, then transmute the Fairy Bottle into an Orihalcon. Transmute the Orihalcon into the Creation Jewel.

Boss

Brahms is sitting on his throne in a large room and makes some cryptic remarks to Valkyrie that infuriate her. There's a woman encased in crystal on the ceiling. Brahms gives you the choice to fight him, or pause to consider. If you pause, you'll be kicked out of the castle. If you fight, you'll have a nice view of Brahms kicking your butt since it is impossible to defeat him. Choose not to fight, otherwise you cannot get the "A" ending.

| | | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| Brahms | 52,000 HP | no weakness | 1,000 Exp. |

Enemies

| | | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| Demon Servant | 2,000 HP | no weakness | 1,000 Exp. |
| Lesser Vampire | 2,500 HP | no weakness | 700 Exp. |
| Vampire Lord | 5,000 HP | no weakness | 600 Exp. |

Chapter SIX

Valkyrie should have a Seal Value of 10 at the beginning of this Chapter. If you send up Lucian and an Einherjar that fits Freya's request, it will increase to 34, but this is still low enough to merit the best ending. After sending up Lucian, the story segues into Lucian telling Valkyrie the story of himself and Platina.

| Barbarossa | 62,700 HP | no weakness | 20,000 Exp. |

This area integrates both a town and a dungeon. Before you enter the city, equip Angel Curios and set up Guts for everybody, since you will immediately enter a long battle where your entire party will die several times. Also, Divine several Union Plumes and distribute Experience Orb points to your weaker members. When you enter the city, you'll battle with Barbarossa, whose "Calamity Blast" Special Attack can do up to 40,000 points of damage to each of your characters. Get in a four-combo Special Attack from the get-go. After you defeat him once, he will revive. There is no way to avoid the second battle, so keep at him with your Special Attacks. Now start walking away...he will re-generate again! Leave him alone if you don't want to enter into yet another battle. Instead, leave the area and enter Dipan Castle. Explore the castle so you can fight all the enemies and gain some experience before you enter the room with the Time Mechanism in the bottom left. After warping backwards in time, leave the castle and head into town. People will begin to drop hints that there is a hidden room in the castle. Go back inside the castle and inspect the bookcase in the room on the upper left. It will swing open to reveal the queen. After giving Barbarossa his crown back, head back inside the castle. Now you can finally, finally SAVE. There is a stained-glass window to the top left of the save point which you need to break and jump through. However, you should first go pick up all the treasures and come back to this point. Shoot a couple of crystals at the bottom of the window until they break into dust, then jump up and slash the window with your sword. Make the crystal platform again so you can jump through the hole you made.

When you first enter, there is a chest with an Eye of Heaven. If you merely run all the way to the left, you will encounter an elf who will act as your guide through the forest. Another elf will inform you which tools are required to repair the Accursed Flame Gem Golden Candlestick, Silver Thread, Polar Drops and a Charm Feather.

When you walk back to the area where the elves repaired your Accursed Flame Gem, there will be a maze that leads to another Cockatrice. ## Palace of the Dragon

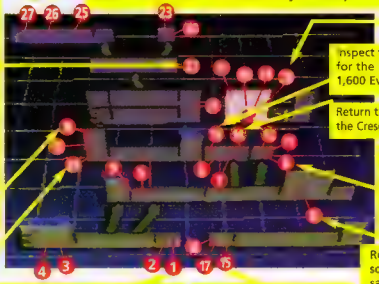
After picking up the Shield Critical, jump up to the left and enter the next room. Just wait there until the guardian approaches. When it turns around, follow it to the end of the hall. It will turn around and charge you, so be prepared to jump over it. Follow it again and it will create a hole in the wall. Go through the wall, then immediately head to the left. Create a few crystals on the wall and wait for the guardian to return. When it does, jump over it and run all the way to the other side to get the Dragon Slayer

There is one last stone to get; however, it is held by one of the guardians. Keep an eye out for the guardian and head to the middle of the room Build a crystal, then put a chest on top of it and stand on that. When the guardian charges, jump straight up. If you do this enough times, the guardian will eventually get tired and fall asleep. When the guardian stops coming by regularly, leave your perch to find it. Inspect the guardian and you will receive the Blood-Red Stone and 1,600 Event Exp. Insert the Blood-Red Stone in the statue and you'll warp to the boss dungeon.

This chest is on a ledge that cannot be reached until after defeating the boss. Remember the Gorhla Cult HQ chests? Do the same thing. Pile the chests and crystals on top of each other, and shoot crystals up against the ledge to make a crystal dust platform. From there leap to the ledge.



Inspect the picture of Death for the Darkspot Stone and 1,600 Event Exp.

Return to the statue and insert the Crescent Moon Stone.

Inspect the picture of the Wheel of Fortune for 1,600 Event Exp., then return to the statue and insert the Eclipse Stone.

Return to the statue and insert the Darkpath Stone.

When Valkyrie is prompted to operate the mechanism, choose yes. The gears will grind. Head back to the statue and insert the Darkspot Stone.

Inspect the picture of the Tower for 1,600 Event Exp. The stone is behind the picture. Put the stone inside the hole on the statue of a woman and you will warp to another dungeon.

Inspect the picture of the Chariot and receive the Darkpath Stone and 1,600 Event Exp., then return to the statue and insert the Darkspot Stone

Re-arrange the statues so they're facing the same ways they were in the Full Moon dungeon for 5,000 Event Exp. Walk inside the room to pick up the Crescent Moon Stone for 1,600 Event Exp.

Additional Event Experience: 50,000

Boss
Gandar is actually quite easy, despite his boasts to the contrary. If you have trouble with this battle, distribute some of your Event Experience to level up your company.

| Gandar | 35,000 HP | no weakness | 180,000 Exp. |

This is a hallway similar to the one in Crescent Moon, with holes where the paintings were. A statue will inform you that the youngest should go first, except for fools. This means Valkyrie needs to walk through the openings that correspond to each painting, beginning with the lowest number, and ending with the Fool. You should go through each door in the following order: Emperor, Chariot, Wheel, Hanged Man, Death, Tower, World, Fool. After walking through the last door, Valkyrie will earn 20,000 Event Exp. and a door will open at the end of the hall.

The items within this dungeon are guarded by moving statues that will charge Valkyrie when she gets too close and warp her into a maze if touched. The first time you should get warped on purpose, so you can earn some experience points fighting with the Dullahan Lord. Now if you just go back-and-forth between the rooms in the maze, a statue will eventually appear. Insert the Darkspot Stone and return.

Weeping Lily Meadow

Enter the meadow when it is found by Valkyrie's Spiritual Concentration and you will have fulfilled the last requirement to get the best ending

First Boss

This is by far the most difficult battle you've had so far Not only can Bloodbane kill your whole party in one shot, he can also heal himself back to full health If you chain your Special Attacks, you can eventually wear him down. Make sure your party is strong enough to wear him down past 1/2 health very quickly, otherwise he will just keep on healing himself. When Bloodbane's energy is about 1/4 full, he will begin to use his Special Attack, Gravity Blessing. This will kill your whole party every time. As long as you have an Angel Curio on everyone in your party—and Guts is set in the first slot in the Skills window—at least one of your characters will always make it through. Never let Valkyrie remain unconscious for more than three rounds, though, or the rest of your characters will die. You should not expect to defeat him the first time, so relax your deathgrip on the controller and take a few deep breaths before diving in again. After defeating Bloodbane, get the treasure behind him: the Demon Sword "Levantine."

| | | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| Bloodbane | 222,000 HP | no weakness | 200,000 Exp. |

It's Over!

Congratulations! You've beaten Valkyrie Profile and seen the "A" ending. After the credits roll to a finish, wait a few minutes and the end will continue. If you want to get the "B" ending, just replay the game normally without being concerned about Valkyrie's Seal Rating. The "C" ending appears when your Evaluation Points drop to 0; you will then return to the World Map, where Freya will be waiting for you.

It's Not Over...

Seraphic Gate

No matter which mode you play, the Seraphic Gate is an extra dungeon that opens up after you beat the game once. However, the rewards inside the Seraphic Gate can only be claimed if you beat the game in Hard Mode and collect all eight of the Flame Jewels found inside the eight dungeons that are unique to Hard Mode. When these conditions are met, you can recruit three extra characters in the Seraphic Gate: Brahms, Freya and Lezard. You can also fight two optional bosses, which Enix fans should recognize from Star Ocean 2: Gabriel Celeste and the Iseria Queen.

Clockwork Mansion on Loam Hill

Revolving Room—Before you enter the series of revolving rooms, inspect the doorway for clues and a scroll. When you enter the maze, press SELECT and the scroll will show you a basic layout of all the rooms and indicate each room's current orientation. Whenever you move into a new room, all the rooms except the room you started in and the room you moved to will rotate 90° counterclockwise. Each individual room has a different number of exits, so it will be necessary to move back and forth between rooms until the openings align with the room you're moving from. The following is just one sequence you can use to travel from the entrance to the exit.

1. Up 2
2. Right 1
3. Down 1
4. Up 1
5. Down 2
6. Up 2
7. Right 2
8. Down 1
9. Up 1
10. Down 2
11. Right 2

Note that Valkyrie is able to jump over running water by standing at the edge of a platform and leaping into the door. Also, she can hang from ladders that are sideways if you jump and press Up. If you make a mistake—or get trapped in a room you cannot exit—wait a few seconds and a clockwork denizen will appear to warp you back to the entrance. Clearing the maze nets you 20,000 Event Exp.

| Ram Guardian | [illegible] | [illegible] | [illegible] |
| Vanir | 14,000 HP | Weak: Poison | 6,000 Exp. |

Second Boss

After Bloodbane, this battle should be a breeze. Equip everyone with Freeze Check before engaging. Since Fenrir is weak against fire, make sure your mage knows a fire spell, or equip your swordsmen with Flare Baselard or the Scarlet Forge. Merely use your Special Attacks and keep your Angel Curios equipped and the battle should be over quickly.

| | | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| Fenrir | 250,000 HP | Weak: Fire | 250,000 Exp. |

Third and Final Boss

Loki is practically invincible at this point, and you will not be able to do much damage to him. All you need to do is survive a few rounds and the scene will automatically shift into story mode. Once the story is over, you will enter into battle with Loki a second time—this time with a new weapon, the Glance Reviver. Loki will use two Special Attacks: Carnage Anthem and Dragon Orb, which will kill your party instantly. As long as your Guts are set up and you have some Angel Curios, then this battle should be no problem (even though only Valkyrie and mages can cause any significant damage). Reserve your mage to heal or revive characters.

| | | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| Loki | 400,000 HP | no weakness | 300,000 Exp. |

For The Hard-Core Only

At press time there wasn't enough time to go through the Normal Mode and the entire Hard Mode, but the following are answers to several of the puzzles in the first two dungeons that are unique to Hard Mode.

Selerno Research Facility

Vines with blue flowers react to blue perfume, red flowers to red and yellow to yellow. There are three different rooms in which to obtain the different perfumes, and another room where you can pick up an acid capsule. Since you are only able to carry one acid capsule at a time, you need to wither the plants in a specific order. If you perform these steps in sequence, you should be able to get into the upper rooms:

1. Soak yourself in the red perfume.
2. Get an acid capsule.
3. Head south and wither the red vine, then pour acid on it.
4. Go into the room to the west to get yellow perfume.
5. Head north and wither the yellow vine, then inspect the female corpse lying next to it to get the blue perfume.
6. Get another acid capsule.
7. Head to the northeast to wither the blue vine, then pour acid on it.
8. Run back to the room with the yellow perfume.
9. Head back to where the blue vine was, then head north. Wither the yellow vine.
10. Go to your right and soak yourself in red perfume.
11. Head back to the left, then climb up the yellow vine to pass over the waterfall.
12. Wither the red plant that blocks the save point and the boss.

SELECT GAMES

Hey, you—listen up! This isn't your typical "review/preview" section. The purpose of Select Games is to show you a bunch of games that are out there—or are coming out soon—so YOU can decide which ones you'd like us to cover with in-depth strategy guides in future issues! See that postcard that's stuck between pages 66 and 67? Rip it out and write down the names of the games you're interested in. Drop it in a mailbox; we'll total up the responses and give you the kind of coverage you asked for!

Pick it!

The elite "Tips & Tricks Pick" is given to those select few games that are highly recommended by the T&T staff after we've tested them thoroughly. Many hot games that are previewed here are not eligible for the pick until they are considered "reviewable" by the publisher, which means they're finished or nearly finished. Pay special attention to the picks; these are our favorites!

Watch for it!

Games with the Super Import symbol were only available in Japan at press time. Be on the lookout for a possible American release sometime in the near future!

MS. PAC-MAN MAZE MADNESS

Namco • September • 1-4 Players

Forget about Lara Croft ..the ultimate video-game babe, Ms. Pac-Man, is back in full 3-D glory in Ms. Pac-Man Maze Madness. Last year, Namco released Pac-Man World 20th Anniversary and brought our favorite dot-eater into a full-scale 3-D world. Ms. Pac-Man gets the same 3-D treatment for her nineteenth birthday this year. Ms. Pac-Man Maze Madness, however, has a more traditional element than Pac-Man World's platform-style gameplay. Just like the old games, only the directional pad is used There are no jumping, dashing or special power-ups, making it a great game for all walks of life. Ms. Pac-Man must face a series of mazes while avoiding all kinds of disturbing forces, including hungry ghosts, mummies, bigfoot, centipedes, dragons and more. It's not all mindless maze wandering, however. There are many puzzles involving block pushing, explosive crates, trampolines and flying carpets. The game contains twelve stages, four hidden stages, three bonus mini-games, a Boss round and a secret Boss round. There is also a multi-player mode in which four players can engage in several challenges—including "Ghost Tag," where one player is Ms. Pac-Man and the other three are the hungry ghosts trying to stop her. "Dot Mania" allows players to compete to see who can munch the most dots. And if you want to take a break from the newfangled 3-D graphics, you can jump right into the original Ms. Pac-Man game! The old-school style gameplay, combined with new puzzle-solving elements makes this a brilliant title in our opinion. Nostalgists who thought Pac-Man World was too much of a departure from tradition will definitely be pleased with what Namco has done with Ms. Pac-Man Maze Madness.

SONIC ADVENTURE 2

Sega • Possible in 2001 • 1 Player

Speaking of anniversaries: The next Sonic the Hedgehog game, Sonic Adventure 2 for the Dreamcast, will commemorate Sonic's tenth anniversary next year. There is little information regarding Sonic Adventure 2 at the moment, but Yuji Naka's Sonic Team has released these new photos recently to get us all hyped up! It looks like there will be more evil from Dr. Robotnik and more Chao shenanigans. As you can see, Sonic Adventure 2 will mostly take place on the streets of San Francisco. Yuji Naka just opened up a new development studio in San Francisco for his new Sonic Team USA branch. Their new neighborhood has obviously inspired some of these levels. Being the tenth anniversary of Sonic, this is going to be a huge title for Sega. We'll keep you posted!

DINOSAUR PLANET

Rare • 4th Quarter • 1-4 Players

This year's big Christmas holiday game from Nintendo and Rare will be a huge epic adventure set in a world filled with every kid's favorite beasts: dinosaurs! Dinosaur Planet may have some of the most beautiful environments ever created for a console game. Waterfalls, mountains, valleys and rain forests sprawl across the horizon, giving players endless areas to explore. Two fox-like heroes, Sabre and Krystal, are appointed to save this dinosaur paradise from an ancient evil that threatens to destroy it all. The two characters can be switched during gameplay to solve different situations, depending on their skills. Two dinosaur sidekicks—Kyte and Tricky— will aid them in their journey. Kyte is a pterodactyl princess who can help you fly from one place to another, while Tricky is a triceratops prince who helps you out on land. The gameplay is heavily influenced by The Legend of Zelda: Ocarina of Time, right down to assigning different items to different buttons and the Z button targeting system. Dinosaur Planet will also have real-time weather effects and a continuous day and night cycle that demonstrates the passing of time. The developers at Rare, who have created big titles like Perfect Dark and Donkey Kong 64, claim that this is their most ambitious project yet. Let's hope it appears under everyone's Christmas tree!

007 RACING

Electronic Arts • Fall • 1-2 Players

James Bond may be known for his espionage skills and smooth style, but he's also known for his fancy cars. Thanks to the zany inventor, Q, Bond gets to ride the latest sports cars specially equipped with an arsenal of deadly gadgets. 007 Racing from EA has all the licensed cars that have appeared in various Bond movies, including the Aston Martin, Lotus Esprit and BMW. The game features fifteen mission-based levels involving pursuit, surveillance, evasion and pure destruction. Each level is inspired by scenes and moments from the most memorable Bond films. Of course, each vehicle will be armed to the teeth with various Q gadgets and weaponry so you can outsmart nemeses like Oddball and Jaws. The two-player mode allows intense head-to-head combat racing for late-night metal mashing. With the immense popularity of Bond-themed video games, 007 Racing takes vehicular combat to a new level. Just don't wrinkle your suit.

SILENT SCOPE

Konami • October • 1 Player

Those who have played the awesome Silent Scope at the arcades will be pleased to know that the game will be available at home later this year. Silent Scope is scheduled to be a simultaneous release for both Dreamcast and PlayStation 2 in October. We sampled both versions and can tell you that there is hardly any difference between the two, so no one will be missing out on anything! In the game, you are a counter-terrorist marksman with the task of saving the President's kidnapped daughter. Due to our current political and ethical climate, neither consoles will support a light gun peripheral like the arcade version. However, the home versions are finely tuned for the regular controllers and never did we feel that they hindered gameplay in any way. The ability to see a distant target and zoom right up close to it is simply a stunning effect. There are some humorous moments too; e.g. when you spot "babes" in the game you are awarded with bonus points! Silent Scope is definitely one of those games that really shows off the power of your new console.

MEGA MAN LEGENDS 2

UPDATE!

SUPER 輸入 IMPORT!

Capcom • September • 1 Player

We've said it many times before and we'll say it again: the original Mega Man Legends is one of the coolest, most underrated games ever released for the PlayStation. Mega Man Legends 2 brings back all the exciting action that made the first game an instant classic. In fact, the sequel has even more action than before, with more missions, enemies and bigger and badder bosses. Like the first game, Mega Man's job is to clear out dungeons populated by reaverbots while collecting zenny so he can buy better and stronger weapons. While on the surface, Mega Man and Roll will get to explore huge worlds, interact with many inhabitants and play several different mini-games. Data, the dancing monkey robot, will also return to give you in-game hints and saving points. The new graphics are a lot more detailed and the worlds are much bigger than in the original Mega Man Legends. Mega Man and Roll also look taller, indicating that they have grown up a bit since their last adventure.

MEDAL OF HONOR UNDERGROUND

Electronic Arts • Fall • 1-2 Players

As a follow-up to the acclaimed World War II first-person shooter game Medal of Honor, the new Underground edition tells the story of Manon, a young girl of the French Resistance during the height of Nazi occupation. With the help and advice of famed authors Elizabeth McIntosh (who wrote Sisterhood of Spies), Margaret Weitz (author of Sisters in the Resistance) and actual French Resistance survivor Helene Adams-Deschamps (Spyglass), Dreamworks Interactive brings us closer to the plight of the unheralded women who fought in World War II. Manon's headquarters is situated in the basement of a French Bakery where she'll receive orders for missions that take her to the streets of France, North Africa, Italy, Germany and Greece. Medal of Honor Underground will feature new weapons, including a german sniper rifle and a pistol crossbow. Enemies will also have smarter Artificial Intelligence and will even be able to utilize motorcycles, tanks and other armored vehicles. A cool new "disguise mode" will also be featured where Manon can dress up as an ambulance driver, for example, and infiltrate German encampments.

STAR WARS: EPISODE I BATTLE FOR NABOO

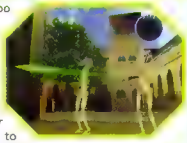
LucasArts • Fall • 1-2 Players



The peace-loving folk of the planet Naboo are being attacked by the Trade Federation. A few resistance fighters have taken it upon themselves to defend the planet from the Neimoidians. Star Wars: Episode I Battle for Naboo is in the same style as Star Wars: Rogue Squadron, where players engage in battles with droids, starfighters, battle tanks and other enemies. Battle for Naboo takes it a step further by introducing a wide variety of Star Wars vehicles, allowing players to traverse terrain from air to sea to land. Some of the vehicles include the N-1 Starfighter, an armored STAP vehicle, a gunboat and a Gian speeder, just to name a few. As Lieutenant Gavyn Sykes, a young Naboo soldier, you will fight for your people's freedom from the city streets of Theed to the icy snow-capped mountains of the north. Star Wars: Episode I Battle for Naboo features an original plot line while intersecting at key points with the movie The Phantom Menace. A must for Star Wars heads!

BUST-A-GROOVE 2

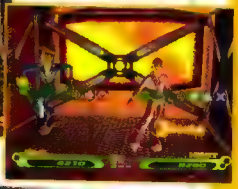
UPDATE!

Enix • 3rd Quarter • 1-2 Players



When 989 Studios closed its doors to reunite with Sony Computer Entertainment, it seemed like North American gamers would never get to see a follow-up to the wickedly fun dancing game, Bust-A-Groove. Thanks to Enix and its new U.S. office, Bust-A-Groove 2 is heading our way! Released more than a year ago in Japan by Enix, Bust-A-Groove 2 will feature all-new music tracks for its stateside release. Many of the favorite dancers will be back, like Heat, Shorty, Strike, Kelly and the twin aliens, Capoeira. Some new contestants will also join the fray like Tsutomu (a professional baseball player) and Bio, Gas-O's zombie dad. Much of the gameplay is still the same; you press buttons in rhythm while trying to chain combos together so your character starts "Chillin!" or breaks into a "Freeze!" A new system called "Just a Luck System" will be incorporated where players can build up their power bars on the bottom of the screen so they can pull off even more outrageous dancing moves. Welcome back, clubbies!

SPAWN: IN THE DEMON'S HAND

Capcom • October • 1-4 Players

"Feel my pain!" The home version of Capcom's arcade rumbler, Spawn in the Demon's Hand, is making its way to the Dreamcast this Fall. Based on the popular comic book series, Spawn is a true multiplayer action game with numerous modes of play. The story of the confused hell-spawn super hero is completely irrelevant in this game; it's all about pure unadulterated action. Fans of the comic book, however, will still be pleased to see that—once they become unlocked—there are over 36 different Spawn characters to choose from! You can play as Spawn, Al Simmons, Cogliostro, Tiffany, Clown, Twitch, Redeemer, Grace, Tremor and the list goes on. You can team up with your friends or introduce computer-controlled characters to beat down villains like Vandalizer, Cy-Gor or Admonisher, to name a few, in Boss Attack Mode. You can also have two-on-two battles in Team Battle or just go into an all-out deathmatch in Battle Royal. Players can use guns, fists or special moves as they fight in huge arenas with many subsections. Spawn: In the Demon's Hand should be just in time for Halloween.

UNREAL TOURNAMENT

Infogrames • October • 1-2 Players

One of the most anticipated Playstation 2 games this year is Unreal Tournament, an extremely popular first-person shooter game on the PC. Unreal Tournament focuses on one element: competition. There is no single-player adventure as in the original Unreal. There are several modes of competition, however, including Deathmatch, Team Deathmatch, Capture the Flag, Domination and Assault. What makes Unreal Tournament a classic in many people's eyes is the fast-paced, no-nonsense gameplay which keeps you coming back again and again. The extremely balanced weapons are also a big part of its popularity, which is why it has come to be known as the "Quake killer". The PlayStation 2 version will be Internet-ready, so you can log on and start racking up a death toll, even against other lousy PC users. The game can be played with the PlayStation 2 controller or with the new keyboard and mouse peripheral for the console. PC ports are often the bane of many console players, but Unreal Tournament is certainly a game that deserves to be enjoyed by the masses.

ETERNAL DARKNESS

Nintendo • October • 1 Player

Eternal Darkness is described as a "survival horror" type of game, which in English means "Hoo boy, another Resident Evil clone." It's developed by Silicon Knights, developer of the original Legacy of Kain. Continuing Nintendo's recent gratuitous violence streak, the game boasts a variety of gruesome ways for the player's character to hack and blow apart zombies and other monsters. One of the major features of the game is that you'll be controlling different characters at different periods in time, from the 14th Century to the post World War I era. As is usual in games like this, you'll find plenty of puzzles to solve and evil creatures to destroy. And yes, it's M rated.

MAT HOFFMAN'S PRO BMX

Activision • 3rd Quarter • 1-2 Players

Developed by Runecraft, Ltd., Mat Hoffman's Pro BMX is the latest effort to capitalize on the Tony Hawk's Pro Skater craze. What does one have to do with the other? Well, this game uses an "enhanced" version of Neversoft's skateboarding game engine. In other words, it's just like Tony Hawk's Pro Skater, but with a bike. You can go up ramps, do tricks, chain together moves, etc. There are eight courses in all, plus a course editor where you can save your custom-made level onto a memory card. As usual, there are the "Single Session" and career modes of play, including a variety of two-player games.

THE GRINCH

Konami • October • 1 Player

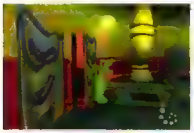
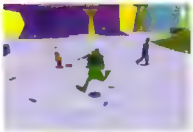
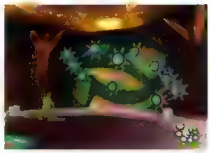
The Grinch is a new action/adventure game developed by Universal Interactive Studios. It's a tie-in with this fall's live-action movie, Dr. Seuss' How The Grinch Stole Christmas!, directed by Ron Howard. Relive the classic 1957 tale as you play the part of The Grinch himself, running around Whoville and stealing gifts. Max the Dog also appears in the game as a sidekick. He can find and explore secret areas, warn you if there's something dangerous ahead, or distract any innocent Who that might be lurking about. Check it out this fall!







THE GRINCH

PRO SURFER

Mattel • November • 1-2 Players

Mattel Interactive is slamming its way to the Sega Dreamcast with Pro Surfer (working title), the first authentic surfing action arcade game. Pro Surfer brings back memories of the good ol' days of the Nintendo Entertainment System and T&C Surf Designs. The game allows you to choose from a variety of different surfing locations, each with it's own specific beach "condition." Multiple gameplay modes including Arcade, Championship, King of the Wave and Free Surf mode attract recurring gameplay, along with a special Trick Attack mode so you can show everyone who really is king of the beach! The most advanced surfing game ever created; look for Pro Surfer this fall on Dreamcast and PlayStation.

GRADIUS III & IV

Konami • 3rd Quarter • 1-2 Players

Finally! It seems quite uncharacteristic of Konami to release a game like this in North America, considering the dozens of super-cool games that the company publishes in Japan only. Let's hope this is a sign that more of Konami of Japan's games will be translated and ported stateside. Many of you may have played Gradius III on the Super NES. Included on this disc is the arcade version of the game, which contains stages and enemies that never appeared on the Super NES. Gradius III is ten years old—and it shows—but it is a nice bonus to have, and it includes a really neat feature that lets you adjust the amount of slowdown in the game! But Gradius IV is where the real meat is. In Japan, the game is known for its high degree of difficulty and the fact that you have to progress a couple stages into the game before you see its most impressive graphics. No doubt, Gradius is practically designed for shooter experts. However, for the domestic release, a new "Easy Mode" will be added so that those without cyborg-like reflexes can also play the game. And the graphics are incredible indeed, consisting mostly of 2-D sprites and backgrounds with 3-D effects. This is one of the first 2-D shooting games to use the high-resolution mode (640 x 480) throughout the whole game, and it really makes an enormous impact on the quality and detail of the graphics. If you're a 2-D shooter fan, support the cause and buy it this fall!

BLITZ 2001

Midway • 3rd Quarter • 1-4 Players

Headed back just in time for football season is Midway's franchise football game with an updated set of rosters, playbooks and all-new bone-crushing hits! The Blitz playbook has been revamped and the graphics of the playing fields and actual on-screen characters have been altered as well. Choose from Season, Arcade or Tournament mode, design your own plays and cheat, beat, pummel, mash, decapitate—well, sort of!—your way to victory! All current 2000-01 roster are intact for this upgrade to the number one arcade smash hit. Pick this one up in early Fall to avoid the rush!

THE LITTLE MERMAID 2: PINBALL FRENZY

GAME BOY COLOR

Nintendo • December • 1-4 Players

Pokémon Pinball must have been a hit on the Game Boy, 'cause Nintendo is coming right back at you with another portable pinball package. The Little Mermaid 2: Pinball Frenzy offers two different tables and 16 mini games, all inspired by the adventures of Ariel from the Disney movies and TV series. Expect to hear plenty of jaunty, "Under the Sea"-style calypso tunes as background music and look for the playfield parts to resemble characters and items from The Little Mermaid.

BUFFY THE VAMPIRE SLAYER

GAME BOY COLOR

THQ • Fall • 1 Player

If you're one of those next-generation slackers who watch nothing but the W.B. and read magazines like Maxim...well, you're not going to find any half-naked pictures of Sarah Michelle Gellar in Tips & Tricks, but we'll be happy to tell you what we know about the new Buffy the Vampire Slayer Game Pak for Game Boy Color. You play as Buffy herself as she battles the demons who have descended upon UC Sunnydale during the school's Multicultural Week celebration. The game's 13 levels are all based on familiar locations from the TV series—Sunnydale Mall, the cemetery, Buffy's dorm room, etc.—and are populated by Willow, Xander, Giles and the rest of the main cast.

SCOOBY-DOO! CLASSIC CREEP CAPERS

GAME BOY COLOR

THQ • Fall • 1 Player

Classic Creep Capers (working title) features the original Scooby-Doo gang with no Scrappy-Doo hanging around for dopey atmosphere. With more than 20 levels to explore, the game is actually based on the "Nowhere to Hyde" episode of the original cartoon show. In it, the gang tries to unravel the secrets of a mysterious town's jewel robberies and unusual suspects. You'll solve puzzles, run from spooks and even gulp down yummy Scooby Snacks as you search for clues and hidden bonus areas in the creepy mansion of the shady Dr. Jekyl. Developed by Digital Eclipse

SPIDER-MAN

GAME BOY COLOR

Activision • Fall • 1 Player

To complement its new Spider-Man game for the PlayStation, Activision has hired developer Vicarious Visions (Polaris Snocross, Zebco Fishing) to bring your friendly, neighborhood Spider-Man back for his sixth appearance on the Game Boy. It may look like a typical side-scrolling adventure, but it's much more; all of the stages are interconnected, and our hero can go back and forth through the levels at any time to find power-ups and fight more bad guys. The game sticks to Marvel's source material like Spidey sticks to walls; look for bad guys like Venom, Carnage and Doctor Octopus to keep the web-slinger true to his comic-book roots.

Stage Select
At the "Fik's Journey" screen, hold C⊕ and press the R button. Now point the analog joystick to the Right and you'll see that the entire game has been unlocked, allowing you to start at any stage.

Extra Tracks & Vehicles
Note: You need two controllers to input this code, and it can be difficult to get the timing right, so if it doesn't work the first time, try again. First, turn the game on and hold L + R + Z on Controller 2. When the title screen appears with the words "Push Start" flashing in red, quickly tap Up on the D-pad and the C⊕ button at exactly the same time (also on Controller 2); you must also be sure to release those two buttons at exactly the same time. Finally, press START or A on Controller 1 before the title screen disappears. If you've entered the code correctly, you should see two new courses at the track-select screen and five new vehicles to choose from, including one that's shaped like a Nintendo 64 controller. Press the R button repeatedly at the vehicle select screen to change the color of the N64 controller to red, green, blue, black or yellow.

Turbo Start
At the starting line, hold the A and B buttons. When the announcer says, "Set, Ready, GO!" release the B button just before he says "GO!" This gives you a speed boost at the start of the race.

Turbo Boost
During a race, hold the A button to accelerate, hold Z and point the joystick hard Left or Right, then release both buttons and quickly press A again. This is a difficult trick to perform, but if you do it successfully, you'll hear a sound and you'll get a burst of speed.

Stage Select
When you turn the game on, wait for the Video System and Paradigm Entertainment logos to disappear, then enter the following code as soon as you see the planes flying in the introduction sequence: Up, C⊕, Left, C⊕, Down, C⊕, Right, C⊕, L, R, Z. You'll hear a sound to confirm that the code has been entered correctly. Next, choose "Main Game" from the Game Mode menu; a stage select menu will appear, allowing you to practice any stage. The save options are deactivated when this code is in place, so your regular game scores won't be affected.

Secret Character: Mao Mao
Wait for the words "Press Start Button" to appear on the title screen, then press C⊕, C⊕, C⊕, C⊕, C⊕, C⊕, C⊕. At the "Pilot Select" screen, you'll find a new character called Mao Mao who pilots an F-15. Note: You may have already unlocked Mao Mao if you continued more than three times in the Tokyo stage.

Secret Character: Spanky
To access another secret character, you must complete the following requirements:
1) Earn more than 170,000 points by the end of the Pacific Ocean stage; this will allow you to play the first bonus stage, "Air Landing"
2) Clear the Tokyo, Pacific Ocean and Air Battle stages in less than 1,400 seconds; this lets you play the Desert stage during daytime
3) If you clear the daytime Desert stage, you'll access the second bonus stage, "Shuttle Defense."
4) If you clear the "Air Landing" and "Shuttle Defense" bonus stages, you'll enter the third bonus stage, "Goliath Defense," after the Fortress level
5) If you clear the "Goliath Defense" bonus stage, you'll enter the fourth bonus stage, "Space," after the Antarctic Ocean and Ice Cave levels
6) If you clear the "Space" bonus stage, you'll be able to access Spanky, an X-29 pilot.

Secret Codes
Choose "Enter Cheats" from the main setup menu, then enter one of the following codes to get different effects. Codes will remain active until you turn the game off; to deactivate a code, just enter it again or see below:
ATEMYBUIK—Unlocks secret "Alienapolis Park" stadium in Exhibition Mode
PRPPAPLYR—Players are paper-thin
GOTHELIUM—Players' heads, feet, hands and bats are big
ABBTNCSTLO—Some players are fat, others are thin
BBNSTRDS—Big baseball
GRTBLSFDST—Baseball leaves a smoking trail
Note: With the exception of the "Alienapolis Park" code, each of the above cheats can be toggled on and off at any time during gameplay with the following button codes; you don't need to enter the above passwords to use these:
• Players are paper-thin—Pause the game, then hold Z and press C⊕, C⊕, A, C⊕, A, C⊕, C⊕, C⊕, C⊕, C⊕

MONSTER RANCHER 2

Secret Monsters
As in the original Monster Rancher, the best way to generate new and different monsters is by visiting the Monster Shrine and inserting different compact discs into your PlayStation, listen to the priest's instructions to find out how this is done Any CD can be used, from your favorite music CDs to computer CD-ROM discs or even other PlayStation titles. The game reads some of the digital data from your CD and uses those numbers to generate a monster that you can raise on your farm There are also many special monster types that can only be found by using ONE specific CD For example, if you use Quiet Riot's Metal Health CD to create a monster, you'll get a creature called "Bloodshed" that you can't get from any other CD The following is a list of these "special" CDs which can be used to create special monsters. Please be aware that the CDs on the following list are not 100% guaranteed to work with Monster Rancher 2 the way they should. Occasionally an audio CD or PlayStation game will be re-mastered or re-released with slightly different track listings, if there are several different "pressings" of a particular CD, it may happen that your copy of the CD in question will not be recognized by the game and will not give you the monster you're expecting. Tips & Tricks apologizes for any such discrepancies you may encounter

MORTAL KOMBAT 3

Play as Smoke
During the opening demo—anytime after the copyright screen appears—rotate the D-pad 360° clockwise until the "Ultimate Kombat Kode" prompt appears. Enter the code Dragon-MK-Dragon-Goro-Skull-Goro by pressing R1 once, △ six times, ✕ six times and ○ nine times. You'll hear Shao Kahn say, "Outstanding!" and a message will appear to confirm the code. Now the hidden robo ninja Smoke is a selectable character in the one- or two-player modes.
Secret Cheat Mode
During the opening demo, quickly press ✕, ○, △, R1, R1, R2, R2, R1, R1. You'll hear Shao Kahn say, "You will never win." Now press START, when the stone block appears with the word "KOMBAT" in red, press Up to access a secret cheat menu.
Turn "Free Play" on for infinite credits in the one-player mode. Turn "Smoke" on to activate him as a playable character without using the Ultimate Kombat Kode. Turn "Fatality Time" off to give yourself infinite time to perform fatalities. Turn "Level Select" on and you'll be able to choose any stage—including the Hidden Portal—from a menu at the bottom of the character-select screen after you choose your fighter. With "One Round Match" on, fights will last just one round, and with "One Hit Death" on, the first player to strike will automatically win the round.
If you're having trouble remembering this code, here's a simpler version. During the opening demo, press ✕, L1, L2. You'll hear a whooshing sound. Now you can access a shorter version of the cheat menu without the "One Round Match" or "One Hit Match" options.

MORTAL KOMBAT 4

Turn the "Endings" option on and you'll be able to see your character's ending sequence after winning just one match in one-player mode; the other three options allow you to perform fatalities with just one button press.
Secret Characters
To play as Goro or Noob Saibot, you must first enter the "Secret Cheat Menu" code shown above. Once that code is in place, start a game and follow these instructions at the character select screen:
1) Highlight the "Hidden" box at the bottom of the screen, press Block and continue to hold it down.

X-MEN VS. STREET FIGHTER

Secret Options Menu
At the main menu—the one that says "Battle Mode/Vs. Mode/Training Mode" etc.—press △, △, Right, ○, L1, you must enter this code very quickly. If you've done it fast enough, you will be taken immediately to a secret "EX Option" menu with two special options:
• "Game Mode" lets you use a limited version of the "tag team" option from the X-Men vs. Street Fighter arcade game. To do this, set "Game Mode" to "Original", then start a game in Vs. Mode. At the character-select screen, Player 2 must choose the same characters that Player 1 has chosen, but in the opposite order. (For example, if Player 1 chooses Cyclops, then Ryu, Player 2 must choose Ryu, then Cyclops.) If you've done all this correctly, when the fight starts you'll see that each of the four characters has his or her own energy meter. During the match, if you press Fierce Punch + Roundhouse Kick simultaneously (that's L1 + R1 if you haven't changed the game's default control configuration) you will "tag out" and switch places with your partner, who enters with an immediate attack on your opponent
• If you set the "Hyper Combo Gauge" option to "Full," your Hyper Combo Gauge will fill up to Level 3 automatically when playing in Vs. Mode
Play as Apocalypse
First, beat the game in Battle Mode at any difficulty setting without losing a single round. Once you've accomplished this, start a game in Vs. Mode. At the character select screen, highlight Akuma, hold the SELECT button and press any action button. Apocalypse will appear as your chosen character. Here are some of his moves
→ ↓ ↘ + Punch—Ground Pound
↓ ↘ → + Medium Punch—Shoulder Rockets
↓ ↘ → + Fierce Punch—Drill

The Printer will spit out a long table of information that tells you everything you need to program the current tune on any Game Boy Camera. You can use these printouts to exchange music data with your friends

Celadon "Rocket Game Corner" Tips
• Slot Machines—Watching the reels carefully can increase your odds of getting a match. For example, watch for a particular image or number to scroll by, and hit the A button as soon as it appears for each reel. The chances of you lining up another image is fairly high, as long as you don't get dizzy staring at the tiny Game Boy screen. Although it's claimed that the slot machines inside this casino have different odds, watching the reels works on all of them.
• Secret Coins—After speaking to the other people in the casino to get coins, you can discover secret coins lying around the floor of the Game Corner by moving around and pressing A.
Evolution Tip
Some Pokémon can only be evolved through the use of elemental Evolution Stones. It is a bad decision to evolve your Pokémon right away, since there may be some attacks it can only learn in its Basic Evolution stage that it would never learn if you evolved it right away
Hidden Machine Tips
• Hidden Machines, or HMs, are permanent. If you teach them to one of your Pokémon, they will never forget it; therefore, don't teach weak HM skills like "Cut" to a Pokémon you intend to use as part of your main party
• HM 01 (Hidden Machine 01): Cut—When you use Cut in a grassy area, you will clear away four squares of grass. Using this method is one way to avoid random encounters with wild Pokemon
Master Ball Tip
The Master Ball is an ultimate Pokéball that can capture any Pokémon instantly. It can only be used once, so don't waste it on a common Pokemon. It should be used so it can be used to capture Mewtwo or one of the three Legendary Birds.
Fight Mewtwo
In order to fight Mewtwo, you need to gain access to the Unknown Dungeon. You must defeat the Elite Four before the man blocking the entrance will allow you through. Also, you must NOT reset your game after you've beaten it. Wait for the credits to finish, then go back to the Start screen by pressing A. Fly to Cerulean city, then use a Pokémon that knows Surf to get to the Unknown Dungeon, which lies to the northwest of Cerulean city. Right before you fight Mewtwo, save your game. That way if you lose or if Mewtwo faints, you can quickly reset the game. You should also do this before fighting other "one-time-only" Pokémon like Zapdos, Articuno and Moltres. When you fight Mewtwo, either use the Master Ball immediately or use sleep attacks and a lot of Ultra Balls
Quick Experience Gain
If you have a group of strong Pokémon with one weak Pokémon, you can level up your weak Pokémon quickly by letting it share experience with a stronger one. Put the weak Pokémon at the top of the list so it always goes out into battle first. Switch it immediately with a strong Pokémon and the two will split the experience points in half. This is an good way to level up Pokémon like Magikarp, which are useless before they evolve
Rare Candy Tip
Gaining levels by using Rare Candy on your Pokémon is not as effective as leveling up your Pokémon normally. Pokémon who legitimately gain experience improve their statistics more dramatically than Pokémon who only used Rare Candy, so it's not a good idea to use a lot of Rare Candy on one Pokémon at once, since it will be weaker than other Pokémon that are the same level

Tokyo Xtreme Racer 2

by Ara Shirinian

Known as Shutokou Battle 2 in Japan, Tokyo Xtreme Racer 2 is one of the most ambitious "real city" racing games to date. There are over 100 unique miles of road to traverse as you race around Tokyo's Shuto expressways. Here you'll find a map of all the courses in the game, plus some racing hints for Quest Mode.

Handling Basics

One of the first things you must remember about handling your car is that—depending on the camera view you use—you may feel like you're traveling much slower than you really are. Also, compared to other racing games, the brakes and turning ability of the cars in this game, in general, are terrible. Consequently, you might find yourself hitting walls and other obstacles every time you encounter a moderate turn on the road. To compensate for this, you have two choices. First, you can be really careful about your driving and brake extra-early for turns, with the drawback that you may be braking a little more than you need to be. Alternatively, you can ignore the proper turning techniques and just expect to hit the wall every so often. Obviously, it is much easier to do the latter. However, that's not the best way. During the first half of Quest Mode, your cars will accelerate very slowly. Thus, it's important to maintain as much of the momentum that you have built up on the straightaways as possible. Hitting the walls is not the way to accomplish this. You have to brake a lot for sharp turns. It will seem like a really excessive amount of braking if you do it right, but you can get through a turn as much as 25% faster than if you're just speeding into the corner and hoping for the best.

Camera Views

Tokyo Xtreme Racer 2 may be one of the few racing games where it's advantageous to switch between different camera views in the middle of a race. It may seem cumbersome at first, but it will definitely be to your advantage to be able to quickly change views while you battle. The Driver's view is the most difficult to race with, although it gives you the greatest sensation of speed. In this view the camera is closest to the ground, so it's hard to see your immediate surroundings. However, you can only see the rear-view mirror in Driver's view. It is essential to use this view when you're in front of your opponent by a wide margin, so you can see how far he is behind you. He might be catching up quickly—and if that's the case, you'll need to be able to block him. On the other hand, if you are behind your opponent, the best view to use is the Chaser's view. The camera here is furthest from the ground, and it allows you to easily see your immediate surroundings. If your opponent is only close behind you, this view is also good because you can still see about one or two car lengths behind yourself.

Avoiding Drones

There's a small amount of traffic on the expressways that you must weave through as you drive around. However, when you're in a battle, just one drone car in the wrong location can cost you the race. This is especially true in the Ginza area, where the expressway narrows briefly into short one-lane segments in a few places. To make matters worse, on occasion these drone cars may start to go crazy for no apparent reason and steer toward you! If this occurs, there's usually not much you can do about it, but you should stay as far away from the drone cars as you can as a preventative measure. If there are four lanes in the road, use them!

Interacting With Your Rival

It's never to your advantage to come in contact with the opponent car, unless the impact is at the rear of your car when you are blocking. Don't try to force them into another lane or into a wall by hitting the side of the car because this almost never works. However, you can sometimes influence them because they will try to block you with varying degrees of aggressiveness. You can sometimes confuse them by weaving back and forth or faking a pass if you are following closely behind. On occasion they will totally screw up and get stuck behind a drone car or other obstacle. You can sometimes win lots of money this way by beating a car that you would not be able to via conventional means...although it's basically up to luck whether a situation like this will occur or not.

You vs. Them

In general, the following statements are true while you're battling a car of similar capability:

- Your car has a higher top speed than your opponent's.
- Your opponent's car has faster acceleration than yours.
- Your opponent is faster around sharp corners than you are.
- Your opponent may make a retarded mistake that effectively stops his car.

What does all of this mean? Well, most importantly, it means that you should not get discouraged when your rival blasts ahead of you at the start of a battle. Many times you'll be able to overtake him after almost a minute of driving. Secondly, watch out for those sharp turns! Even if you have a huge lead over a rival, he may be able to catch up to you on a single sharp corner. Finally, don't give up! The "retarded mistakes" that the opponent car makes are sufficiently rare that you don't want to waste the opportunity once it occurs.

Course Map

Here's a map of all the expressways in the game. Initially, you'll only have access to the northern area. After you beat certain bosses you'll be able to drive on the other sections.

If you're an Armored Core fanatic, chances are that you're also a Gundam fan. The long-running Japanese anime series has spawned over a dozen different spinoffs over more than 20 years, starting in 1979 with the original, classic Mobile Suit Gundam and leading to the current series, Turn A Gundam—the latter featuring Mobile Suit designs by Sid Mead, well known for his design work on Blade Runner. I stumbled upon The Blog's list of Armored Core articles, with incredibly detailed custom color schematics designed to make a handful of Cores look like Gundam Mobile Suits. You can read The Blog's entire article on the Game FAQs web site (www.gamefaqs.com), where it's posted under Armored Core: Master of Arena. Meanwhile, take a look at this example to see how really getting in-depth with the custom color options can work wonders for the final Core design. The actual Core design is set up more for the aesthetic value of resembling the Wing Gundam than for actual play, but the combination of missile launcher and Laser Rifle is always potent. I'd lose the back-mounted radar unit, swap the head for one with built-in radar and plant a Laser Cannon or Large Missile on the back to make it more effective in Versus Mode battles.

Kadoon

Grade: GREAT

Armor Points: 8,361
Weight: 8,326
Price: 1,185,200

"Solid" sent a few Core designs to me; Kadoom is his personal favorite. Although the original design submitted called for dual back-mounted WC-IR24 Laser Cannons, this setup pushes the Core into "Overweight" territory. Rather than crumple up this guy's hard work and bank it into the trash can, I decided to simply remove the offending weapon and found that even without twin cannons of doom, this Core still manages to put up a heck of a fight. In fact, the cannon arm unit is excellent for both Scenario Mode missions and Versus Mode battles. I'm a little iffy regarding the Laser Cannon, though. If you are using "Human Plus" enhancements, then it's fine, since you'll be able to fire it on the move, but serious AC players and tournaments generally don't allow the Plus enhancements, leaving Kadoom with a big vulnerability. It takes a long time to unfold the Laser and it must be fired from a stationary position. Kadoom is still a great Core, and it has enough weight-carrying ability to put just about any weapon on its back in lieu of the Laser Cannon; a missile launcher complements the arm cannons quite nicely.

Zach 12

Designed by Zachary Schiarelli of Powhatan, Virginia

Parts
Head: HD-ONE
Core: XCH-01
Arms: AN-K1
Legs: LN-3001
Generator: GBG-XR
FCS: QX-9009
Boosters: B-VR-33
Back Weapon L: WC-GN230 Grenade Launcher
Back Weapon R: WM-201 Large Missile
Arm Weapon L: LS-99-MOONLIGHT Laser Blade
Arm Weapon R: WM-B2180 Bazooka
Option Parts: SP-MAW, SP-ABS, SP-SAP, SP-AXL, SP-E/SCR, SP-EH, SP-E+

Color Scheme
Base: Red 49, Green: 49, Blue: 64
Optional: Red. 40, Green: 40, Blue: 40
Detail: Red: 35, Green: 35, Blue: 00
Joint: Red: 0, Green: 0, Blue: 0

Performance
Armor Points: 9,308
Weight: 9,624
Price: 921,200

Grade: SUPERFINE

The Zach 12 is a slow, heavy Core with humanoid legs and perhaps the most destructive combination of weapons in the game. Zach's arsenal is almost entirely shell-based; the Bazooka, Grenade Launcher and Large Missile all have finite ammunition while only the Moonlight laser blade cuts into the energy reserves for power. This is a good thing, because with Zach 12's enormous weight, you'll need to save energy for boosting...and even with a full charge, you won't get very far before the warning buzzer sounds. So, Zach's weakness is lack of speed and boosting power. This Core makes up for these flaws by packing heavy armor and overwhelming firepower—as long as the opponent stands still long enough to be hit. Both the Bazooka and the Grenade Launcher deliver huge damage, but are fired in slow-moving packages. The Large Missile somewhat compensates for this with its tracking capabilities, but a fast Core with solid air-attack strategies could give Zach 12 trouble. I played Zach 12 effectively by hampering my opponent's air game with the missiles and then anticipating his landing zone and having a grenade round waiting to meet him. The huge grenade explosion is disorienting, so I could usually switch over to the Bazooka and hit him a couple more times as I advanced. If he was still on the ground and trying to find an escape vector when I got close, a swipe from the Moonlight blade would tack on even more damage

Vulcan #2

Designed by Jay Farmer of Fleetwood, Pennsylvania

Parts
Head: HD-4004
Core: XXA-50
Arms: AN-K1
Legs: LFH-X5X
Generator: GBG-XR
FCS: RATOR
Boosters: B-HP25
Back Weapon L: WC-01QL Laser Cannon
Back Weapon R: WM-AT Large Missile
Arm Weapon L: LS-99-MOONLIGHT Laser Blade
Arm Weapon R: WA-FINGER Machine Gun
Option Parts: SP-Detq, SP-E+, SP-EH, SP-CND-K, SP-E/SCR, SP-S/SCR, SP-ABS, SP-AXL

Color Scheme
Base: Red: 00, Green: 00, Blue 00
Optional: Red: 00, Green: 00, Blue: 00 (Head: 20, 00, 00)
Detail: Red. 64, Green: 64, Blue: 64
Detail: Red: 20, Green: 00, Blue: 00

Performance
Armor Points: 7,988
Weight: 7,630
Weight: 1,671,000

Grade: SUPERFINE

One of my favorite weapons from Armored Core: Project Phantasma—the WA-FINGER Machine Gun—has been toned down drastically in Master of Arena; it has less ammo and seems to have suffered a loss in both range and accuracy. Still, it's fast, efficient and deadly in the hands of a skilled player. Vulcan #2 relies on the WA-FINGER as its primary weapon, since both the Laser Cannon and the Large Missile are slow and inaccurate. The quad legs make this Core fast and particularly well suited for running down opponents and laying into them with the Machine Gun. Quad leg-types are also partial to air combat, since they boost upwards rather than along the ground...so playing a "death from above" game with Vulcan #2 works rather well. If the opponent gets too far away, switch to the missile to freak him out...and as always, use the Laser Cannon to pound any enemy dumb enough to stand in one place for too long.

Gundam Mania!

Our featured Core design this month is based on the popular Gundam Wing series, which has been playing on the Cartoon Network for some time. As a result, Gundam video games, which for years have seen release only in Japan, are starting to trickle out in the U.S. Bandai has already released Gundam Side Story 0079 for the Dreamcast and is gearing up for a February 2001 release of Gundam Wing: The Battle Master, a Street Fighter-style fighting game for the PlayStation. This game was originally released in Japan in 1997 as Gundam: The Battle Master 2. The game still holds up, even after three years. Gundam fans will notice that there are no Mobile Suits from the Gundam Wing series in this game, even though Bandai is releasing it with the Gundam Wing title. Still, it's good to see some of the quality Gundam games finally released in the states. Gundam Wing is definitely a game all Armored Core fans will want to check out.

Street Fighter Midwest Championships

Twin Galaxies and Tips & Tricks Magazine were on hand for the largest tournament to hit the Chicago, Illinois area in years! It happened on June 24-25 at Capcom's Super Just Games in Northbrook. Alex Valle from Westminster, CA took the $1,000 grand prize reserved for the player who placed the highest overall in four different Street Fighter games: Super Street Fighter II Turbo, Street Fighter Alpha 2, Street Fighter Alpha 3 and Street Fighter III: 3rd Strike. As a bonus to complement these already insanely competitive tournaments, the very first Marvel vs. Capcom 2 tournament was held, with bragging rights going to Arturo Sanchez of New York City.

Players came from all over the United States, including two dedicated gamers from Canada and one who was in town a week earlier just to practice! Many players kept each other entertained with various tales of the difficulties they encountered just to get to the tournament on time. The event was filmed by Twin Galaxies, the official scoreboard for world record holders of all video game titles. Twin Galaxies awarded $200 cash prizes for top scores in each title as well as extra prize money overall to the top three players in the contest. A total of $3,000 in cash and prizes was handed out over the course of the weekend, making the Midwest Championships a stellar success! Special thanks goes to Matt Atwood from Capcom Entertainment for providing Sega Dreamcast games to the winners, Jayson McClellan and the rest of the staff of Capcom's Super Just Games for use of the facilities, technician work and overall help throughout the tournament, Walter Day and the Twin Galaxies staff for promotion, prizes, the awards ceremony and overall dedication to the players for this event...and most of all, dedicated tournament emcees Joe Jennings and Ari Weintraub for all their work over the weekend!

Pokémon Report

PokéROMS

In the miniature, card-shaped world of the Pokémon-adorned PokéROM, Pokémon roam free in a digital paradise. Each disc contains a Pokémon Sanctuary where you can observe the behavior of your wild Pokémon or engage in Trainer Battles. These Trainer Battles include a battery of skills tests challenging your knowledge of Pokémon, math, science, social studies and grammar. As you collect the available PokéROMs, the quiz database will grow exponentially. There are also puzzles that will unlock pictures of your Pokémon, which you can subsequently view and print. Mattel Interactive and the Learning Company's PokéROMs are edutainment with a Pokémon interface that exercises the minds of Pokémon trainers with skill levels staggered from grades one through five. The first series was released on July 10th at a suggested retail price of $7.99.

...Psyduck, Poliwhirl, Gengar, Eevee, Mewtwo

POKÉMON CAKE

For those of you who have a serious sweet-tooth, prepare yourself for even more cavity-inducing indulgence. Bakery Crafts has its own Pokémon Cake Kit that will whip up a confectionary delight topped with Charmander and Pikachu figurines. A picture of the cake can be printed out from the company's website at www.bakerycrafts.com, then taken to your local bakery to be re-created. Eat the cake, save the toys.

Kellogg's Pokémon Cereal

If you're a fan of Lucky Charms, then Pokémon cereal should be right up your alley. This breakfast treat of toasted oats is liberally sprinkled with marshmallows and tastes delectably sinful, yet is full of wholesome goodness. Plus sugar. Lots of it. Unfortunately, these cereal boxes are only available for a limited time—because Pokémon, darn it, is about collectibility!—with images of Pikachu and gang cavorting around a bowl of cereal, eyeing their little effigies hungrily.

POKÉMON POPSICLES

These refreshing treats were sweet enough to choke on, yet managed to come in a variety of Pokémon shapes. After eating one shaped and colored like Gengar, with two red candy eyes, it is my humble opinion that these popsicles are evil. How else would you describe a popsicle that looks like a deranged ghost, manages to coat your entire mouth black for several days, yet still tastes like lemon or strawberry? Although the fudgesicle-like texture of these treats was a little rich for my taste, they're sure to be a hit with younger kids...and Popsicle will be cashing in by releasing different Pokémon shapes throughout the summer.

Trendmasters Toys

Squirtle Pokémon Sentinel
If you're concerned about your personal space—and have siblings that tend to rummage through your belongings without so much as a how-do-you-do—then perhaps you need to increase the security in your bedroom. Trendmasters answers the call with Pokémon Sentinels, which are guardian Pokémon that shout out their signature call or bust out with the Pokémon theme song when anyone approaches too close, a tactic that should make even the bravest invader quake in fear.

Charmander Pokémon Clock
Another Pokémon-voiced device is this Charmander Alarm clock. When the alarm is set, it will call out "Charmander! Charmander!" For deep sleepers such as myself, this should be considered purely as a decorative purchase.

POKÉMON WALKIE-TALKIES

Pokémon Walkie-Talkies, created by Tiger Electronics, have a range of 100 feet and are powered by 9-volt batteries. Although there is continual static in the background, voices can still be heard clearly. While using these within my apartment to figure out if my living room is 100 feet long (it isn't), the Walkie-Talkies began to pick up radio frequencies. When positioned correctly, you could hear truck drivers speaking to each other. Other than the obvious benefits of being able to listen in on the conversations of complete strangers, the Walkie-Talkies make decent short-range communicators and are a bargain at $17.99 a pair.

Burger King: The Second Wave

Between July 17th and August 27th, Burger King will have a new Pokémon promotion by including one of 24 different 3-D Pokémon Trading Cards in every Big Kid's Meal. Similar to the toys in the first promotion, these cards will come with a variety of features, including talking, lighting up and squirting. The Poké Ball containers featured in the last Burger King Pokémon promotion (which resulted in the tragic accidental suffocation deaths of two children) have been eliminated.

Pokémon the Movie 2000

Between July 21 and July 27, anyone who purchased a ticket to see Pokémon the Movie 2000 was given a free Ancient Mew promotional card. From July 28 to August 3, one could also get one of three Legendary Bird promotional cards. Considering the immense opening weekend box office for Pokémon: The First Movie despite the deafening din of negative reviews, there's no question that Pokémon the Movie 2000 is also likely to silence critics by smothering them with bags of money.

THE END IS NOT NEAR

Pokémon has been around quite a long time—practically half a decade has passed since the first game was introduced in Japan—and some critics of the craze have been predicting its demise for some time. After all, overexposure leads to death. However, a report on Nintendo's earnings for the first five months of 2000 show a 220% leap upwards when compared with the same time period last year, an astonishing rate of growth attributed to the continuing popularity of Pokémon with

JAPAN REPORT!

Mini Playstation

Sony just released a compact, portable version of the PlayStation called the PS One. The new machine hit stores in Japan on July 7th, which is also the release date for Final Fantasy IX over there. It is about a third of the size of the regular PlayStation and costs 15,000 yen. The PS One is not a handheld unit as many people thought it would be; it's just a smaller and more portable version of the PlayStation, much like a laptop computer. The PS One is designed to focus on the upcoming mobile phone technology for the PlayStation. By using a special cable that connects the PS One to cellular phones, users can download various information, including entertainment content, software programs and exchanging of data. Like the regular PlayStation, it has two controller ports and two memory card slots. If you compare the size of the unit with the analog controller, you can get a pretty good idea on how small the PS One is! The four-inch LCD monitor for the PS One is scheduled to be released sometime in the Spring of next year. The PS One is scheduled to appear in the U.S. sometime in September and it looks like it will cost around $99. With the regular PlayStation, the PlayStation 2 and the PS One, it's going to be hard deciding what to play your game on!

SEWING BOY

Sewing with the Game Boy? It's unbelievable but true! A new company called Jaguar (not to be confused with the Atari Jaguar) created a special sewing machine that allows you to control stitching patterns with your Game Boy Color! The sewing machine, called nu • yell, comes with a Game Boy cartridge called Raku Raku Mishin, or "Easy Easy (Sewing) Machine". You can choose out of the 302 pre-set sewing patterns and create any design you want! The pre-set patterns can be combined on the Game Boy screen, then the information is fed into the sewing machine and voila! Error-free sewing! The cost of nu • yell is a whopping 40,000 yen—almost four hundred dollars. Ouch! A new machine called "Nuotto" is also in the works, which will allow you to create whole character designs like Mario.

BLAIR WITCH FOOD

Remember the Blair Witch Project haunted house attraction in the July issue's Japan Report? To follow up that story, here's a look at the kind of food they're serving at Tokyo's Joypolis, Sega's amusement arcade. Shown here are Stickman Fries, a Missing Orange drink and the Blair Witch Sandwich. We can only guess what's in the sandwich!

Vivi Doll Boosts Pre-Orders

Pre-orders for Final Fantasy IX went through the roof in the early part of summer in Japan. Over a million pre-orders were accepted in just a few weeks, crushing all other pre-order records, including that of Final Fantasy VIII last year. Although much of the frenzy can be attributed to Final Fantasy-mania, the free Vivi doll could be the main reason for the crazy numbers. With every Final Fantasy IX pre-order, a free Vivi doll will be included when you pick up the game. The U.S. branch of Square has also started to get involved with special promotional items for U.S. customers, like the free Chrono Cross clock for those who pre-ordered Chrono Cross here. Hopefully we can also get the ultra-cool Vivi doll offer before Final Fantasy IX comes to our shores!

FINAL FANTASY IX

Capcom vs. SNK Keychains

Several arcades in Japan are selling keychains with Capcom and SNK characters to promote the upcoming arcade crossover Capcom vs. SNK Millennium Fight 2000 (formerly known as SNK vs. Capcom). Each set comes with one Capcom character together with one NK character. Capcom vs. SNK Millennium Fight was simultaneously released in the arcades and for Dreamcast in early August in Japan.

Digimon D-3

While Pokémon fever sweeps through the world, Bandai's Digimon franchise quietly continues to create a huge fan base. The Digimon virtual pet games have sold close to a hundred million units worldwide since they were introduced in June of 1997. The Digimon virtual pet game has already gone through several incarnations since its release, including the Digimon Pendulum and last year's Digivice. This Spring, Bandai released Digimon D-3, a new model based on the Digimon Adventures 2 TV show currently running in Japan (the first Digimon TV series is currently running in the U.S.). Digimon D-3 is a wireless unit that uses an antennae. The device will actually alert you if it senses other Digimon D-3 users in the area, so you can challenge them for a match. The cool new cell phone look is proving to be quite popular in Japan.

Rent-a-Snake

This summer, Tsutataya—a big video rental chain in Japan—is renting out a Metal Gear Solid 2 sneak-peek trailer on DVD for free with any rental. The Metal Gear Solid 2 Trailer DVD shows the same movie footage that was shown at the recent Electronics Entertainment Expo (E3) in Los Angeles.

METAL GEAR SOLID 2 SONS OF LIBERTY

The DVD also features an E3 documentary, demonstrating to the Japanese how crazy Americans went over the new Metal Gear Solid 2 scenes shown at the show. A booklet is also included with concept drawings by Yoji Shinkawa. The actual PlayStation 2 game is scheduled to release in the early part of 2001.

COOL ZONE

*Summer is almost over...and if you're like us, you are probably wishing it would stay like this forever. Long, lazy days, no school, sitting around and playing video games all day...sigh Anyway, there's one thing that can keep you chilled year 'round, like an ice cream man who doesn't know when to hibernate. That's right, we're talking about the...*

Pelican Accessories' new Stinger Jolt Action Light Blaster is safe enough to sell in stores! A special reload trigger, turbo mode and autofire highlight this new Dreamcast phaser. It's too bad we won't be able to keep this in the office long; it's going to be sent to one of the lucky winners of our Chu Chu Rocket contest!

Aww...how cute! Nintendo sent us this fluffy Kirby pillow to promote Kirby's first Nintendo 64 game, Kirby 64: The Crystal Shards. Unfortunately, our advertising director thought it was a punching bag and cruelly knocked him to the floor! After surviving this vicious, unprovoked attack, Jason felt that Kirby needed a hug.

Nintendo recently sent us this metal Game Boy paperweight in honor of the system reaching the 100 million mark in total sales! Imagine that for a second: 100 million Game Boy units have been sold all over the world since 1989. Having completed his collection of NES games, maybe Jason should try for a complete library of Game Boy Game Paks...

Another accessory from the fine folks over at Blaze. The Palm Pad Junior is specially made for the younger generation or those who think the stock PlayStation pad is a bit on the bulky side. The D-pad is also a bit different; it contains four microswitches, like those used in arcade sticks, and has the same feel as the NeoGeo Pocket Color system pad and Neo•Geo CD system controller pad. Turbo, Slow Motion and Dual Shock compatibility make up the list of features included in this unique device.

Here's one of the very last accessories to be released for the NeoGeo Pocket Color system, which by now should almost be completely off store shelves. The Nyko Worm Light has a rechargeable battery pak that allows up to eight hours of play without recharging, and allows you to actually SEE the game you are playing if you happen to take your NeoGeo Pocket somewhere dark and desolate.

Ever have problems with your Game Boy Color not fitting in your pocket? Now you can be hip with the new Hip Clip holster with belt clip! Place this on the side of your belt and show off your Game Boy Color to the world!

This color link cable by Nyko will allow you to link up two NeoGeo Pocket Color units for multi-player play in games like SNK vs. Capcom: Match of the Millennium, Cardfighters' Clash and Bust-A-Move Pocket!

Are you getting tired of looking at your dull, gray PlayStation? Now you can liven it up with your choice of these new sticker sets from Playdesigns. Give your machine a Resident Evil 3 motif or lighten it up with some Looney Tunes characters; eight different designs are currently available. Best of all, the stickers have a special adhesive that makes the "repositionable;" that means you can switch them around to fit your mood or straighten them out if you put them on crooked.

You would have thought we had enough cheat devices lying around our desks, but there always is room for one more! The XploderGB for your Nintendo Game Boy shows you just how far we have advanced technologically. Any new codes that are released can be upgraded via the Internet with an XChanger device (sold separately). This device will keep you busy, especially if you're a Pokémon freak. Over 1,500 codes are available for the Pokémon game alone, including instructions on how to get the elusive Mew! Create your codes for some of the wildest effects ever seen in any video game; no true cheater can own a Game Boy without an XploderGB!

Be the coolest kid in school with these multi-colored game "Care Cases" from Nyko; they can protect all of your Game Boy compatible games. Since Game Boy games do not come with the old-school plastic cases anymore, Nyko figured that most kids weren't about to keep the games in the cardboard boxes they come packaged in. Four cases per box, and each is a different color!

What an amazing little joystick this is! Another fine Blaze product, the Pro Stick Lite is so small, it is smaller than the size of a human hand! As small as it is, it plays extremely well for fighting games; with the base weighing a tad more than other joysticks, the Pro Shock Lite won't shift to one end of the table. Stability is the key! The Pro Shock Lite is well worth the purchase if you thrive on competition.

Alas, another cool NeoGeo Pocket Color accessory that won't be seen in too many households: the major cool Shock 'N' Rock 4-In-1 accessory. Maximize your NGPC's sound capabilities with its dynamic sound capabilities that increase the overall volume of the handheld. Turn on the "vibration" ability and you're ready to rock!
